Pazner Law, a firm based in Grosse Pointe Park, MI, is proud to announce they have expanded their personal injury legal services in Michigan with the result that the compensation received by accident victims is maximized. The most frequently liable party in a car accident in Michigan is a negligent motorist, which is usually a driver who was texting, drunk, speeding, or engaging in any activity that is considered to be reckless. In a no-fault state, compensation for damage resulting from the accident is done by filing a claim directly with the one's personal insurance company. However, there have been some amendments to the No-Fault Law in May 2019. To learn more about Michigan laws affecting car accident injuries, those interested can visit their website at <https://www.paznerlaw.com/>.

A spokesperson for Pazner Law says, "After being seriously injured in an accident caused by other people, you may be feeling scared, confused, and unsure of what your next steps should be. You need help, but you don't know where to turn to. An experienced Detroit personal injury lawyer with Pazner Law can take control of the claims process to help you get the compensation you deserve for your recovery."

The problem with an auto accident is that it can result into an endless string of complications that significantly affect the victim's life. From the undeniable impact of physical injuries to the anxiety-inducing effect on one's finances, the damages suffered can be life-changing and the victim deserves to be rectified. Fortunately, an experienced lawyer with Pazner Law can navigate the personal injury compensation process on behalf of the victim, cut through the red tape, and offer the legal services that enable the victim to recover cash compensation for both economic and non-economic damages, such as: lost wages, diminished earning capacity at one's job, medical expenses and equipment, property damages, childcare expenses, costs of household maintenance, injury-related bills, pain and suffering, loss of companionship and love, diminished quality of life, emotional distress and trauma, and inconvenience

Getting the deserved compensation after an accident caused by negligence is always difficult. The personal injury system of Michigan is highly complex, particularly for those who have no direct experience, and the insurance company is typically interested in minimizing the amount of compensation paid to an accident victim. Pazner Law wants to emphasize that they are offering free consultation to accident victims and they will not get paid until the client has received the compensation they deserve.
