January 12, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

An SEO company in India, has revealed a new list of top traffic generation websites. The list can be accessed through <http://www.seotick.com/>. Various companies using SEO have already expressed gratitude for the provision of this list.

"There are a number of websites that are essential for those who want to generate huge amounts of traffic," says Tulika Sinha from SEOTick, the SEO company. "At the end of the day, that is what SEO is all about, so this information is vital to all of those involved in the world of SEO. We worked very hard in creating this list and are happy to see that it is already helping others achieve their goals."

SEOTick wants to enable others to harness the power of well over 1,000 different websites. This will enable clients to easily and quickly get to the top of not just Google, but also Yahoo, YouTube and others. Some of the methods they encourage companies to use include video marketing, article marketing, social media, social bookmarking, RSS feed submission, Web 2.0, high PR forum profile backlinks, blog commenting, private blog network, Wiki creation, blog posting, social networking and more.

Those who become members of SEOTick can quickly and easily access all of those services and really make a mark in the world of SEO. It has been very positively received by many. "I really feel that I now have the ultimate SEO advantage," says Paul C. "Thanks to the services that I can access by being an SEOTick member, I can make sure that I can deliver real results. As an added benefit, I have learned a lot as well. This is not some sort of one size fits all service, but rather an opportunity to share information and learn from experts in the field."

The SEO services provider offers a number of specific services and packages. These include such things as article spinning service and backlink building. They are encouraging everyone who would like to use SEO to visit their website and sign up for an account in order to get started.
