An SEO services provider in Bangalore, India, is happy to announce that they have now started to offer local SEO services, which cater to the demands of their local clients. The goal of the company is to ensure businesses are able to get large amounts of traffic from qualified leads, thereby giving them maximum exposure. They are also committed to keeping the cost of doing this as low as possible.

"We believe that there is no need to spend any time worrying about whether or not an online marketing budget is spent properly," says Amtush, founder of Amtush InfoSolutions. "We now offer the highest quality local SEO services, at a price that anybody can afford."

Amtush guarantees that their clients will see an increase in traffic to their website and their sales. In fact, if their client is not in the Google search results within 90 days, the company will continue to work for free until the page is found. Additionally, they pride themselves on their affordability and quality. They achieve this through local SEO, online reputation management, conversion rate optimization and real time social media analytics.

The services offered by Amtush have been very positively received by their many clients, who are all excited about the prospect of being able to access more localized SEO services as well. "When I first came across Amtush, I thought they were too good to be true," says Trudy N. "However, never one to pass up on an opportunity, I figured I may as well let them have a go at it. They exceeded my expectations. My website was found on the first page of Google in just 20 days, much quicker than their own guarantee. I cannot begin to describe the difference this has made to my business either. And all that for a price that is just a fraction of what others charge. I have now hired them again to have a stronger focus on local SEO and I can't wait to see the results."
