Whether the customer is looking for a minimalist bathroom, a modern bathroom, or a luxurious spa-like bathroom, they can cater to specific, one-of-a-kind specifications and preferences. A spokesperson for Oxford Bathrooms says, ?From concept to completion, our team of experienced designers and contractors collaborate with you to create a personalised plan, selecting fixtures, materials, colour schemes, and layout options.?

Getting a bathroom renovation from Oxford Bathrooms requires just three simple steps. The spokesperson says, ?We implore all homeowners to carefully consider the depth of experience and the appropriate licensing and insurance of their future bathroom renovator. Don?t simply go and pick the cheapest quote of a sole trader tradie working from their van. Some tradies who help you with your bathroom renovations may not require a trade licence in some states, but all, absolutely, must be qualified and insured.?

Property owners interested in a bathroom renovation can get a quote from Oxford Bathrooms by calling them on the phone or by using an online contact form on their website at https://www.oxfordbathrooms.com.au/. The first step in the process is one of their experienced bathroom designers visiting the home of the potential customer to quickly evaluate the bathroom?s drainage, plumbing, heating, electrical, and ventilation requirements. If needed, they will recommend ways to enhance the functionality of the bathroom. After the visit, the homeowner will be invited to the showroom to discuss their quote and recommended bathroom design. The quote will include high quality fittings and fixtures to make sure the renovation will provide an aesthetically pleasing bathroom and add value to the home.

In the second step, the homeowner visits one of their showrooms in Brookvale and Thornleigh. Their experienced and friendly team of design consultants will guide the client throughout the bathroom design process. Each showroom has a special tile table that will enable the client to visualise how the floor tiles will coordinate with the wall tiles and cabinetry. They also have complete bathroom displays to help the client imagine how the new bathroom will look.

The third and final step is the actual renovation of the bathroom. A bathroom construction manager from Oxford Bathrooms will oversee the project and every detail of the bathroom renovation. He will also supervise each tradesperson working on the project, which will usually be completed in a few weeks.

Started in 1999 by two brothers who are licensed builders and plumbers, Oxford Bathrooms has established a reputation as bathroom renovation experts in Sydney and surrounding areas.
