Naples, FL - Dr. Rosemary?s Tea Therapy is proud to announce their latest product, an herbal tea called Breastmilk Booster. They have touted the product as a great gift for mothers. The product is made available for customers exclusively on the giant online shopping portal Amazon.

The main ingredients in the milk tea are fenugreek, fennel, anise and coriander. According to Fenugreek.Org, the ?fenugreek plant has been used for ages, making it quite prominent in historical culture. Though it?s not as well-known as it once was, it is still utilized in various places around the world for a variety of reasons. The taste and smell of it has been said to be very similar to maple syrup and licorice.?

According to Dr. Rosemary, the milk tea contains herbal ingredients that combine to give a delicious taste. The organic ingredients which are included to make the blend are spearmint, orange peel and lemongrass. According to the company, they embed in the milk tea blend and enhance the flavor. Other substances are included to make the tea blend a loose leaf herbal mixture with rich flavor, including organic red raspberry leaf, organic milk thistle and organic caraway seed.

The milk tea imparts many benefits to mothers and according to Fenugreek.org due to the fenugreek contained in the blend can become a women?s health supplement. The website also claimed that ?among its benefits, fenugreek tea is particularly essential for women who are breastfeeding. Throughout history it has proven itself to be able to increase milk supply in women if consumed on a regular basis. Because it is a safe and natural herb it makes for a great choice for women who need to stimulate breast-feeding but also want to be cautious about taking unnecessary medications.?

The website Fenugreek.org was quick to point out that, ?aside from this, other benefits experienced by women who drink fenugreek include balance of hormones, making it a natural remedy for an assortment of problems.?

The milk tea can be purchased from Amazon at affordable prices below $20. Customers who purchase two or more of the product can receive free shipping.
