

NurseRegistry Announces Appointment of Josh Pangan as New CEO

January 11, 2024

January 11, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

NurseRegistry is pleased to announce the appointment of Josh Pangan as the new chief executive officer (CEO). This appointment has brought excitement to the nurse staffing agency as he is expected to bring a fresh perspective and a dynamic approach to the company.

Josh Pangan has accepted the responsibility of leading the whole organization and shaping its strategy, vision, and direction. He has more than a decade of experience in a number of functional areas, such as sales, marketing, customer service and success, and overall business operations, which means he has a well-rounded perspective. Throughout his career, he has been successful in implementing strategic business processes and technology-driven solutions to promote a fast organizational transformation. He is excited to guide NurseRegistry towards continued excellence, growth, and innovation in the field of nurse staffing, while ensuring that clients are given the best healthcare solutions and the dedicated nurses are provided with premium support.

Josh Pangan also shared his excitement and his plans for NurseRegistry's future, "As the new CEO of NurseRegistry, I am honored to join a team deeply rooted in commitment and culture, a legacy established by our Founder and Chairman, Alex Johnson, and nurtured by our dedicated team over the past decade. Our nurses, the backbone of NurseRegistry, and our entire team, demonstrate an unwavering dedication to success, whether it's facilitating a wellness visit for a family or serving a healthcare facility. We excel in connecting the right nurse with the right client the first time, every time. I am thrilled about the opportunities as we expand our reach across the United States. I feel fortunate to collaborate with thoughtful, hardworking individuals who consistently embrace new challenges. Together, we look forward to continuing our journey of providing exceptional care and forging new paths in healthcare staffing services."

He has exhibited a profound understanding of NurseRegistry's core values and its mission to ensure the provision of high-end care. As such, everybody at the agency is excited and expects his leadership to propel NurseRegistry toward new horizons and expand its reach across the entire country. This new chapter for the agency under Josh Pangan's leadership promises to make sure that they will continue to be at the forefront of healthcare staffing.

NurseRegistry is inviting its partners, clients, and the healthcare community to join them in welcoming Josh Pangan as their new CEO. Together, they have high hopes of reaching a future of continued innovation and excellence in nurse staffing.

NurseRegistry is a nurse staffing agency that is committed to assisting nurses find the jobs they prefer, helping healthcare facilities find their nursing staff, and supporting clients who require private nursing care.
