January 25, 2024 -
Towson Roofing Pros, a roofing company based in Towson, MD, is pleased to announce the launch of a new roof restoration service. The company recently introduced the use of high-performance coating systems, a revolutionary approach with the potential to extend the life of any roof, offer significant savings and increase the energy efficiency of any home.

Additionally, the new high-performance coating offers a number of environmental benefits when compared to traditional roof replacement. With their new, state-of-the-art roof coatings, Towson Roofing Pros is looking to offer local home and business owners a better way to repair old roofs and keep them in great condition for years to come.

?Roof coatings are a smart investment for homeowners,? the company says. ?They act as a shield, safeguarding your roof from harsh weather conditions, UV rays and moisture. By opting for our roof coating solutions, you can extend the lifespan of your roof while enjoying improved energy efficiency. With reflective properties that help reduce heat absorption, our coatings can keep your home cooler during scorching summers, potentially lowering your energy bills. Plus, the added layer of protection means less frequent repairs and maintenance, saving you both time and money in the long run.?

Often, roof replacement may seem to be the most obvious solution for a damaged roof. Over time, even the most sturdy roofs begin to break down, and one leak can often mean more leaks are not far off. This is why many homeowners choose to simply replace the whole roof once they begin to notice any sort of wear and tear in specific areas. This is a time consuming, expensive and wasteful process, however.

While it all but guarantees a solution to all a roof?s issues, it is not always necessary. Restoration is far less time consuming, much cheaper and minimizes waste. Using top-tier coating systems, Towson Roofing Pros can restore a roof?s integrity, dramatically improving its lifespan.

Towson Roofing Pros offers a wide range of options when it comes to roof coating, all of which are designed with specific applications in mind. Depending on the client?s needs, the company offers expert advice regarding what roof coating might be best. This ensures that clients can make an informed choice for their unique needs.

All roof coating types offer a baseline set of effective solutions. For instance, leak repair is well within the capabilities of any type of roof coating. Coatings can seal cracks and gaps, which prevents water infiltration and potential mold growth. Some types of coating can protect roofs from harmful UV rays (which can cause premature material degradation). Finally, advanced coatings can inhibit the corrosive effects of elements like salt and acid rain, protecting metal roofing elements from harm.

As with any structure around the home, it is possible to ?DIY? roof repairs, and doing so comes with some advantages, especially where cost is concerned. DIY eliminates the cost of labor and makes it so the homeowner does not have to have roofing repair experts on their property for the duration of the project. However, there are several reasons why it is always better to hire professionals to handle the repair of any roof.

Safety is first on the list of concerns, as working on roofs can be very dangerous, especially if the person working on said roof does not have the appropriate equipment. Most homeowners also lack the expertise needed to repair a roof effectively, especially when it comes to the use of coating systems. Finally, DIY repairs do not come with a guarantee, and should a homeowner damage their own roof, insurance will not cover it.

Working with expert roofers is usually the best way to go about getting a roof repaired, and Towson Roofing Pros is among the top providers in the area. ?From start to finish, I received excellent service,? says a review of Towson Roofing Pros. ?I contacted Towson Roofing Pros after getting several quotes from other roofing companies. The roof inspector was informative and honest throughout the process, and the team did great work on my roof. They were the most professional, and their price was the best. They replaced my roof in one day and did an excellent job. I would highly recommend them to anyone needing a new roof.?
