

Newly Launched Hair Extensions from mLook Hair Offer Cost-Effective, Luxurious Alternative to Implants and Expensive Extensions

December 22, 2015

December 22, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

mLook Hair is disrupting the hair extension industry, offering a brand new type of hair extension that is cost-effective while offering luxury results. The new style extensions are designed for African American women with natural hair and offer an alternative to expensive implants or other extensions.

The founders of mLook Hair were students in need of a cost-effective hair extension solution before a wedding, but the expense of sew-in extensions was too much. Through their research, they found that a single company dominated the market for such extensions, thus keeping market prices high.

mLook Hair offers high quality extensions while sourcing quality hair and engaging customers directly to keep prices low. Currently, their extensions can be found online with free shipping. More information is available at <http://www.mlookhair.com>.
