Sarah James Jazz Merch, a lineup of exciting merchandise from visionary artist Sarah James, is proud to announce the launch of the ?Winter Snow Scene with Poetry 2? designer shower curtain. To find out more about Sarah, visit https://www.sarahjames.com.

The shower curtain features a beautiful winter scene captured by Sarah herself after a 6-inch snowfall in Hudson Valley, about a 2-hour drive away from New York City. Known for its natural beauty, the region is one of the oldest winemaking and grape-growing regions in the United States. Once an agricultural hub, the area soon became a major area for production and was even the birthplace of the first commercially successful steamboat.

Sarah?s winter photograph perfectly manages to capture the loneliness and apprehension that the woods evoke which the first settlers had to brave. The excerpt from the poem that she has added to the image also emphasizes the unpredictability of Mother Nature and the illusion of control that humans have over her. The poem says, ?Nature knows Her Mind, She Understands the Breath of Life, She Changes Colors Everyday, She Grows New Shoots, Under The Snowy Moon, She Life Carries On??

Sarah urges buyers to order the design by saying, ?Is Winter your favorite season? Is snow your go-to when you want to feel invigorated and hit the slopes? This shower curtain is meant for you to get ready to hit the slopes. Perfect for your city home or your country home. Perk up your bathroom seasonally, this shower curtain welcomes all winter activities and is a perfect complement to your Holidays! Add an original touch to any bathroom, room divider, wall hanging, or photo background, or use your imagination!?

Available for $60 excluding tax, the shower curtain is 71 inches wide and 74 inches tall. It is made from 100% synthetic polyester which means that it is extremely strong and durable, retains its shape, and dries quickly. The curtain also comes with 12 buttonholes at the top for hook placement. The product listing recommends washing the item with only a cold machine wash with similar color garments using a gentle cycle. It can be tumble-dried on low settings or hung dried but under no circumstances should it be bleached or dry cleaned.
