Sarah James Jazz Merch seeks to do more than simply sell merchandise. The brand?s goal is to bring art to life, and Sarah James believes there is no better way to do so than to incorporate it into a daily routine. Each item is a work of passion, sparking emotion and conversation everywhere.

?A dusty old canvas in a museum somewhere quickly becomes a dead thing,? says Sarah James. ?An artist does not lay brush to canvas and bleed their heart out just to have the resulting image be an old lifeless picture to be gawked at from behind a barrier. I think art must continue to live and breathe. It must be touched, it must be used, and most importantly, it must be present. Breathing my art into everyday objects is my way of making sure that my art is alive.?

She adds, ?If everything around you is a work of art, your life becomes an artistic journey ? more than it already is. Shower curtains decorated with the most sacred deities or throw pillows that show off the most beautiful scenes nature can offer turn any space into an expression of beauty. Most importantly, and this holds true for all art, it is an expression of self. You choose what you want your coffee mugs and T-shirts and shower curtains to say, and my art gets the message across loud and clear!?

Sarah James is an accomplished artist. Born and raised in the New York metro area, she came from a family full of musicians. Her grandfather, a migrant from County Cork, Ireland, played traditional Irish music on an accordion while her parents were fans of jazz. She began taking piano lessons at the age of 10 and attended the famous Woodstock festival as a teenager. She spent the early 70s touring the United States, performing both with bands and as a solo act.

Currently, Sarah James performs locally in the NYC area both as a solo act and alongside some of the best musicians in the area. The Sarah James Jazz Merch brand is one of the many ways in which the artist expresses herself and shares her love for art with the world.
