Medspace USA Tables, which is based in Bloomington, IL, serves as the ultimate destination for those who need medical tables, catering to a diverse range of healthcare professionals. These include: mat tables, bariatric tables, Hi-Lo tables, tilt tables, pediatric tables, traction tables, wood and metal tables, and various table accessories. They have developed the reputation as a top provider of premium medical tables, which are a wide selection of choices that are optimized for functionality, comfort, and durability.

A spokesperson for Medspace says, "Investing in high-quality medical tables is essential for healthcare professionals. The right table not only ensures patient comfort and safety but also enables efficient and accurate diagnoses and treatments. Medspace USA understands the significance of top-notch medical tables and offers a wide array of options to suit the unique requirements of different healthcare settings."

They offer a wide range of top quality mat tables, which are also known as therapy or treatment tables. These tables are designed for the specific requirements of healthcare providers who need a durable, comfortable, and stable surface for conducting patient exams and treatments. The key advantages of these mat tables include: competitive pricing, premium quality, expert support, fast shipping, and guaranteed satisfaction.

Medsource also has a range of bariatric tables, that have been designed to be capable of supporting patients with larger weights, making sure that their comfort, safety, and dignity are protected during medical exams and procedures. Bariatric tables have a range of features, such as: reinforced construction, adjustable heights, a bigger surface area, and larger weight capacity. Bariatric tables are equipped with electric and hydraulic height adjustments to enable ergonomic positioning and easy patient access. They are constructed from top quality materials to ensure durability and stability.

Another type of medical table available through Medsource USA is the Hi-Lo table, which offers the suitable, versatile, and efficient medical exam table for doctors and other healthcare professionals. A primary feature of these Hi-Lo tables is the fast, easy, and safe adjustment of the table to various heights, depending on the particular requirements of the patients and the healthcare practitioners. Hi-Lo tables are utilized by a wide range of healthcare professionals, such as those offering occupational therapy, massage therapy, therapeutic manipulation, bodywork, and other rehabilitative services. These tables also allow multi-directional tilting that makes it easier for practitioners to perform a range of therapy methods.

Medsource USA also offers the best quality pediatric tables that are designed for the specific needs of healthcare practitioners treating young patients. These pediatric tables are designed and constructed in such a way that caters to the best comfort for children. Having developed the reputation as provider of the best pediatric tables, their range of products offer: durability, which ensures the pediatric tables are able to withstand daily use in a healthcare setting, allowing them to last for a long time; safety, which ensures a safe and secure environment for practitioner and patient through secure locks, rounded edges; assurance of comfort of patients; and customization features, enabling adjustable heights, storage components, and more.

They also offer traction tables, which are all engineered to optimize patient safety and comfort. They are frequently chosen for physical therapy and chiropractic practices. Equipped with advanced design, their tables are of cutting-edge design to facilitate effective treatment of various conditions like sciatica, herniated discs, and degenerative joint diseases.

They also provide a range of wood or metal medical tables. Their wood table are constructed from top quality, high-grade, sturdy wood, ensuring a warm and inviting environment for patients. The metal tables are constructed from industry-grade stainless steel to ensure ease of maintenance and long-lasting medical tables.

Started in 2002 by Todd Fagley, Medsource USA is a premier provider of top quality medical tables, designed to cater to different kinds of needs by a variety of healthcare professionals. Their wide selection of medical tables are all optimized for comfort, functionality, and durability, to make sure that the best possible care is provided for patients.
