

Go Industries Inc. Rolls Out Essential Dually Truck Mud Flaps for Supreme Protection

February 14, 2024

Richardson, TX - February 14, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Go Industries Inc., a diverse enterprise known for its exceptional truck, specialized manufacturing, and law enforcement services, has announced the availability of its much-anticipated truck mud flaps. These are particularly beneficial for owners of dually trucks, which boast dual rear wheels on each side. In line with their mission to deliver comprehensive solutions tailored to the unique needs of different truck types, Go Industries' latest collection incorporates a variety of products suitable for dually trucks.

Mud flaps are far more than a simple accessory for trucks, especially dualies. With a wider wheelbase, these trucks experience increased contact with road debris, creating the need for exceptionally durable mud flaps. By comprehensively integrating these requirements into their design process, Go Industries has developed mud flaps for trucks that offer substantial protection, not only for the trucks themselves, but also for vehicles trailing behind them.

The meticulous nature of the brand shines through in their products, particularly in their truck mud flaps.

Recognizing the intricate balance between adhering to state regulations that mandate truck mud flaps and ensuring driver and vehicle safety, Go Industries has crafted a range of options that meet each customer's individual needs and preferences.

Go Industries offers an impressive variety of designs and materials, including non-recycled rubber and stainless-steel accents, to ensure compatibility with all types of dually trucks. Furthermore, specially tailored options for Chevrolet, Dodge Ram, Ford, and GMC are available alongside the option to select from the Classic Dually Set, Stainless Steel Dually Set, Diamond Tread Dually Set, Dually Flaps & Brackets Only, or Dually Mounting Brackets Only, providing customers with an ample selection to best secure their vehicle. For more on their extensive range, you can visit their website and explore the various products and services they offer.

A representative from Go Industries emphasized, "Our passion is to provide the best products to our customers, and that reflects in our offerings. Recognizing the need for durable mud flaps in dually trucks, we have designed our products to ensure maximum protection. Customers appreciate our attention to detail, and the positive feedback encourages us to continuously innovate our product line."

Go Industries, initiated by Mr. R.J. Orth in 1978, has displayed consistent excellence in delivering quality truck accessories in the United States over the years. This is made possible due to their use of state-of-the-art facilities, advanced computer-controlled manufacturing equipment, and robotic welding machines.

In addition to mud flaps, Go Industries offers a broad spectrum of custom manufacturing services for various vehicle accessories like sheet metal services, tube services, and more. They also extend several resources such as product instructions, blog posts, product catalogs, warranty information, and videos to their customers.

The company representative further elaborated on Go Industries' commitment to quality, stating, "Go Industries has always been about ensuring customer satisfaction. Our strong work ethic, coupled with a keen understanding of our customer's needs, allows us to create products that not only fulfill our customers' requirements but are also a testament to our high-quality standards."

With the introduction of their range of mud flaps, Go Industries signifies the continuation of their enduring legacy of providing top-quality truck accessories. They are open to inquiries about their dually truck mud flaps, and they persist in welcoming and implementing customer feedback, further enhancing their products and services.
