MedSource USA Tables include Bariatric Tables, designed robustly to provide larger patients with comfort and safety. Hi Lo Tables, another vital product in their inventory, are perfect for patients experiencing mobility challenges. These tables can be adjusted in height, which makes patient movement more manageable.

MedSource USA's Mat Tables are widely used by physical therapists and rehab specialists, offering patients the opportunity to do exercises and stretches on a large, flat surface. Their Pediatric Tables are made to create a less intimidating medical environment for children, often featuring exciting, kid-friendly designs.

MedSource USA's Traction Tables will be of interest to healthcare practitioners looking to alleviate patients' back pain or enhance spinal health. These are typically employed for spinal decompression therapy. MedSource USA also provides Tilt Tables that can be inclined at various angles, a helpful feature for patients with certain medical conditions during physical therapy and rehabilitation sessions.

Prioritizing durability and toughness, MedSource USA's Wood/Metal Tables are constructed to endure heavy usage in a medical setting. Alongside these, MedSource USA offers a variety of table accessories like table covers, straps, and cushions, thereby providing a holistic range for healthcare providers.

Lesner expressed the company's mission saying, "Our goal stretches beyond just the provision of medical tables. We aim to offer quality care through our products. The breadth of our offerings evinces our understanding of various medical needs and our dedication to meeting them."
