Haslet, TX - March 04, 2024 -
Smart Medigap Plans, a premier Medicare Supplement Insurance Agency in Texas, has introduced a new approach focusing on personal services. The initiative signals the company?s commitment to people transitioning into Medicare eligibility as they turn 65. Mike Hagan, a veteran Texas Medicare insurance broker, is spearheading this progressive undertaking at Smart Medigap Plans.

One of the key offerings of Smart Medigap Plans is its fundamental Medicare Supplement Coverage. This important service provides additional insurance to cover out-of-pocket expenses that Original Medicare typically does not cover, bringing much-needed relief to clients. To further enhance its value proposition, the company also addresses prescription drug costs with its Medicare Part D service, enhancing overall health care provision.

With a clear intent to cater to the diverse needs of different age groups, Smart Medigap Plans skillfully incorporates the Under 65 Health Insurance into its service repertoire. This strategic move ensures that those below the age of 65 can explore potential coverage options by working directly with the company.

The company also takes pride in its Hospital Indemnity Insurance offering: a set daily, weekly, or monthly benefit for the insured during hospitalization. The uniqueness of this insurance lies in its design where the payout remains independent of actual hospital charges, upholding beneficiaries' financial stability.

Smart Medigap Plans, true to its mission of providing all-inclusive health insurance, also offers Cancer Insurance. This plan specifically covers cancer-related health care costs while acting as a supplement to standard health insurance, not a replacement. In addition, the company provides Vision and Dental Insurance, demonstrating its commitment to extensive health coverage.

Acknowledging the substantial challenges and uncertainties that come with the turning 65 medicare transition, Smart Medigap Plans is pioneering strategies to transform this period from a daunting transition into an empowering opportunity for clients.
