March 18, 2024

March 18, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

eTT Aviation, a leading provider of innovative aviation software solutions, is thrilled to announce Aleutian Airways, operated by Sterling Airways, as its newest customer. The partnership marks a significant milestone for both companies and underscores eTT Aviation's commitment to delivering cutting-edge solutions to the aviation industry.

Aleutian Airways, operated by Sterling Airways, known for its commitment to excellence and exceptional service, has selected eTT Aviation to enhance operational efficiency and optimize its crew management processes. By leveraging eTT Aviation's state-of-the-art software suite, Sterling Airways aims to streamline crew scheduling, improve resource utilization, and ultimately deliver an unparalleled experience to guests. This partnership signifies a step forward in leveraging technology to improve airline operational efficiency and passenger satisfaction.

"We are delighted to welcome Sterling Airways to the eTT Aviation family," said Tom LaJoie, CEO and President of eTT Aviation. "Our innovative software solutions are designed to empower airlines to achieve operational excellence and drive growth. We are confident that our collaboration with Sterling Airways will result in tangible benefits for their business and contribute to their continued success in the dynamic aviation industry."

eTT Aviation's comprehensive suite of software solutions offers advanced capabilities for crew management, flight operations, training, and compliance management. By leveraging cutting-edge technology and industry expertise, eTT Aviation enables airlines to optimize their operations, improve decision-making, and enhance overall efficiency.

"We conducted a thorough evaluation of various software solutions available in the market, and eTT Aviation emerged as the clear choice for us," said Alex Osleger, Director of Operations.

Scott Nemeth, Director of SOC (Systems Operations Center) for Sterling Airways said, "I found that SkedFlex FCMS (Flight and Crew Management System) is very intuitive and comfortable to use, which really cut down the training time for our team members. Each department uses their own workspace within the application and lets FCMS integrate the data into easy-to-understand displays that benefit all our departments. One of the bigger selling points for me is the modular a-la-cart design of FCMS. As a small, but evolving airline, it is not overwhelming in unneeded functionality, but the system is staged with the tools Sterling Airways will need to facilitate a growing future."
