March 20, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

KCS Kitchener Cleaning Services, a professional, dependable cleaning company operating out of Cambridge, Ontario, is notably expanding their service offerings. They have announced a new service option, giving customers the power to choose between pre-designed house cleaning packages and flexible per-hour cleaning services. This innovative progression is primarily aimed at accommodating residents' contrasting needs and financial plans while never compromising on the high quality and consistent reliability of their cleaning offerings.

"We're super excited and enthusiastic about the new change," said Nathali Garcia, owner and founder of KCS Kitchener Cleaning Services. "Our new, flexible pricing structure is specifically engineered to give our valued customers the freedom to opt for the house cleaning services that align best with their individual budget constraints and unique cleaning necessities. Regardless of the cleaning package that our clients prefer, rest assured, our unwavering commitment to maintaining the same high caliber of service is still our top priority," Garcia assured.

The introduction of the per-hour cleaning service is a strategic move to cater to budget-conscious clientele. Under this umbrella, customers have the freedom to dictate both the intensity and duration of the required cleaning session. This per-hour service isn't a one-size-fits-all solution but is conversely designed to cater to myriad applications. It can cover everything from routine house cleaning tasks to more involved deep cleaning missions, along with post-construction clean-up tasks, and comprehensive commercial cleaning services.

Garcia vehemently reassured existing and potential clients alike that the firm's commitment to quality, coupled with the undeniable benefits of their house cleaning services, would remain unchanged. "Clients should understand that regardless of whether they choose our house cleaning services in pre-constructed packages or opt for convenient per-hour slots, they are always guaranteed a superior, top-notch service," Garcia explained. "Our team comprises proficient and insured cleaners who are fully equipped with high-quality cleaning supplies, sanitizing solutions, and professional power-cleaning scrubbers. As an assertion of unwavering confidence in the quality of our work, each service we provide is backed by a stellar 100% satisfaction guarantee," she highlighted.

That said, Nathali also urged clients to be mindful of certain practical limitations. "While the per-hour service provides a great deal of flexibility, it may not allow for the completion of all the cleaning requirements within a specific appointment time. To circumvent any potential inconveniences in this regard, we recommend that customers book suitable time slots based on their cleaning needs or request a quotation for a flat-rate house cleaning package," she suggested.
