Cowgirl Radio, an online radio station with a focus on genres such as Country, Alt-Country, Americana, Contemporary Country, and Alternative Folk, is expanding its array of musical offerings. Positioning itself as a Great New Country Radio Station, it is thrilled to publicize the inclusion of iconic country hits by Beyoncé and Tina Turner into its most prominent level of rotation. Leveraging the power of the Live365 rock-solid broadcasting platform, the station aims to redefine industry standards and amplify the voices of underrepresented artists in the music industry.

The inclusion of songs by these legendary artists aligns seamlessly with the station's foundational vision to support gender equality within the music industry. Ben Killen, the founder of Cowgirl Radio, expressed his enthusiasm regarding the latest additions. "We are honored to add all four of these impeccable recordings by the great Beyoncé (and one including The Chicks) into our heaviest rotation, here at Cowgirl Radio! And we are very excited to be making our first announcement of new additions and rotational upgrades! Hopefully someday soon we have a similar announcement about Beyoncé's good friend Sasha!" asserted Killen. The listed tracks comprise of two renditions of "Daddy Lessons," one from the 'Lemonade' album, and another live version from the 2016 CMA awards featuring The Chicks. The remaining two are recent country hits by Beyoncé, namely "16 Carriages" and "Texas Hold Em," from the yet-to-be-released album "Act II."

Cowgirl Radio has also integrated all the tracks from Tina Turner's 1974 Country album "Tina Turns The Country On!" into its playlist. In response to this, Ben Killen praised, "Tina's '74 Country album 'Tina Turns The Country On!' was the auditory treasure I never knew I needed. Now, I can't live without it."

Cowgirl Radio operates on the Live365 platform, supplying tools for radio broadcasting, podcast hosting, station management, internet radio distribution and licensing, among others. For individuals interested in exploring the wide range of services offered by Live365, including internet radio distribution and licensing, please visit their comprehensive site for detailed information on how to get started with your own radio station or podcast. To listen-in for these newly incorporated songs or any of the hundreds of others in rotation, and discover more compelling content, listeners can tune-in easily with this short-link: https://73l.ink/CGR.

Cowgirl Radio does not limit itself to music alone but advocates for inclusivity, seeking to counteract attempts at silencing vital and influential voices within the industry. Ben Killen firmly states, "We cannot be passive in the face of industry manipulation attempting to silence a voice as unique and timeless as Beyoncé. The landscape has evolved. Individuals are now more enabled to initiate change. Beyoncé is an authority in the music industry. Her voice is far too critical to ever be silenced."

Consistent with its devotion to recognizing and celebrating women in music, the station's launch coincided with International Women's Day and Women's History Month. "This mission was explicitly stated in our first press release," Killen says. "Committing ourselves to counter biases and gatekeeping within the industry. The addition of these classic country hits to heavy rotation substantiates this commitment."

Cowgirl Radio endeavors to challenge music industry norms by embracing a wide range of musical genres and giving recognition to underrepresented artists. As the station grows its social media presence, listeners can stay connected via Live365's social media pages on Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram. Cowgirl Radio is a testament to the transformative potent-ability of music and its capacity in inciting significant change within the music industry.
