?We're so thrilled to be able to mark the opening of our new location and fifty years celebrating our dedication to excellence and world-class patient care,? said CEO and optometrist Dr. Anthony Traverse. ?Since our opening decades ago, we've created a legacy within the area and local community that shows what a profound difference innovative, thorough eye care with a personal touch makes to patients' lives and overall wellbeing. I'm very thankful to have the chance to celebrate that with our staff and wider community.?

"This is a momentous occasion for us," said founding optometrist Dr. David Kennedy. "Anthony and I built up Kennedy Vision Health Center from years of believing that eye care could better serve patients and improve their quality of life. The lessons of my childhood reflect every day in the work ethic I see in our staff, and I could not be prouder that we have come so far, especially when we're marking our latest outpost's opening. From winning the Number One in Reader's Choice award to just seeing a patient's face light up when we're able to help them, the impact is undeniable and a significant part of why we are so committed to excellence."

The grand opening will feature a giveaway for the first 100 attendees and raffles throughout the day. Refreshments will spotlight local delicacies, aligning with the practice's commitment to local representation. The event will also include clinic service showcases to educate future and potential patients.

"With the opening of the Ostego practice, we're promising to look to the future as well," said Director of Operations Lindsey Durr. "We have this incredible fifty-year legacy, and we have every intention of continuing to deliver that exceptional, innovative eye care experience for all our patients. I think what our history has shown us is that this essential aspect of your health, your eyes and vision, flourishes when you have great relationships with your providers who give you that education that empowers you to take care of yourself in and outside of our practice."
