Chase Detailing has announced the launch of their new site plus online scheduling system.

In recent times, mobile detailing services have emerged as a convenient, affordable, and luxurious option for car and truck owners. Chase Detailing has grown quickly since launching earlier this year with their highly expert car detailing services for residents and business owners in the Norman, Edmond, Moore, and Oklahoma City markets. The company is also able to provide leather restoration, paint sealants, premium wax, buffing of exterior swirl marks, and more. Chase Detailing is the only detailing company in the area to provide UV protection as a standard service.

Nicholas Witwer, representing Chase Detailing, said, ?Chase Detailing was started out of a passion for clean, sleek looking cars regardless of their age or type.? He said that the motto of the company is to provide complete customer satisfaction and a great experience every time they clean.

He mentioned that Chase Detailing has quickly become a leading car detailing service in Oklahoma because of their attention to customer service. ?We provide various packages of vehicle detailing for the clients so that they can choose based on their requirements and budget,? said Nicholas. Each detailing package has various features and costs. The company also provides an option for clients to build a customized package online by selecting different add-ons and services.

Chase Detailing also specializes in maintenance detailing, fleet detailing, and corporate detailing. With their corporate detailing services, the company partners with local companies to provide on-site detailing, ranging from a one time visit to a scheduled bi-weekly visit, to afford employees of the partner company with professional auto detailing at a 25% discount.

With the launch of their new website, Chase Detailing provides an easy appointment scheduling system. Customers can select a date and package to be confirmed with a mobile detailing technician.

The company has already earned a loyal following among home and business owners in Norman, OK and with services expanding to Edmond, Moore, and Oklahoma City, it seems Chase Detailing will continue to grow.
