March 27, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Keritone Info solution has announced the launch of its new web shop channel. Webshop Kanalen, the Danish name for web shop channel, helps to start a web shop within minutes. It also provides broad access to all information on how to make a webshop. Sources reveal that the exponential growth in online shopping is the major driving force behind the substantial rise in web shop channels.

During the launch of Keritone's web shop channel the company's chairman was noted saying, ?Keritone is proud to launch its new web shop channel. Our service allows to start a web shop within minutes.? Backed with excellent technical team and experienced technocrats, the company promises excellent service. One of the company's representative said, ?Webshop Kanalen helps to meet the growing demand for web shops. Our dynamic team aims for complete customer satisfaction."

The online commercial service provides a complete guide on how to make a web shop and start a webshop effectively. Studies reveal that the secret behind successful online business is developing the right web shop. An effective webstore helps to define the company's business successfully. The ecommerce service aims to maximize the selling value of its users.

During the product launch Mr. Olegano, a budding entrepreneur was noted saying, ?I am planning to expand my crafts business and sell them online. I am really excited to use the service to create my new online store. With so many features, the new webstore is a boon for the online retailers.?

Some of the important features of the service includes simple setup process, slide shows, social media icons, stock alerts, order tracking and product images. Other features include securing hosting, customizable invoice, quick product search option, and special offer option, categorizing products, special discount displays, product comparison option, favorite product option and secure payment methods.

Based on the selected package, various features can be chosen. The company has decided to offer its service at discounted rates for its first fifty early bird customers. The company's technical support team is available round the clock with quality service. The immense and flexible features of the web shop channel promises to render user friendly service to all its users.
