July 31, 2024 -
House Call Chiros, a leading mobile chiropractic service in Gilbert, recently announced it is expanding its services to additional fitness and wellness centers throughout the Phoenix Valley. Founded by chiropractors Dr. Tom Morgan and Dr. Kristy Morgan, the company?s goal is to deliver comprehensive, high-quality chiropractic care directly to clients?whether at home, work, resort, or health club.

The company offers a variety of services, including house calls, workplace visits, on-site corporate services, hotel visits, health events at job sites, and services at fitness studios and health clubs. This new expansion will allow them to serve more clients who are looking for convenient and personalized chiropractic care.

Dr. Thomas Morgan shared his thoughts on the company?s recent growth. "By extending our services to more fitness and wellness centers, we can reach a broader range of individuals who might benefit from chiropractic care. This expansion is in response to growing demand for our mobile chiropractic service," said Dr. Morgan.

Their strategy includes forming partnerships with various yoga and fitness studios, gyms, and health clubs across the Phoenix Valley. These collaborations aim to give members access to professional chiropractic care, helping them improve their fitness levels and prevent injuries. Guests staying at hotels and vacation rentals in the area can also benefit from having chiropractic services brought directly to their location.

One of the main benefits of House Call Chiros is its flexibility. The company operates seven days a week and aims to offer same-day appointments whenever possible. The mobile chiropractic service allows clients to receive professional care without needing to commute or wait in a traditional clinic.

In addition to individual treatments, House Call Chiros offers corporate wellness programs. These include ergonomic assessments, workplace stretching programs, and educational seminars focused on promoting health and wellness in the workplace. These programs aim to reduce work-related stress and improve productivity by addressing common musculoskeletal issues that employees often face.

The company treats a variety of conditions, including car accident injuries like whiplash, herniated discs, soft tissue injuries, and nerve damage. Their approach is holistic, combining traditional chiropractic techniques with innovative therapies like cupping, massage, and myofascial release. They carry out comprehensive evaluations to understand the extent of injuries and their impact on the client's life.

With over 20 years of experience, House Call Chiros has earned a reputation for providing trusted, expert chiropractic care. Their dedication to personalized care has made them the go-to mobile chiropractic service in Gilbert.

Dr. Morgan highlighted the importance of this expansion by noting, "We have always prioritized providing the highest quality care to our clients, and with this expansion, we can address the needs of even more individuals seeking a more personalized approach to their wellness journey."

House Call Chiros? service area includes Scottsdale, Tempe, Chandler, Mesa, Ahwatukee, North Phoenix, Central Phoenix, Downtown Phoenix, Paradise Valley, Arcadia Biltmore, Cave Creek, Fountain Hills, Queen Creek, and other surrounding areas.
