

StumpMaster Introduces Tree Stump Removal Service Directly to Homeowners

December 29, 2015

December 29, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

StumpMaster Tree Stump Removal, which specializes in stump grinding and root grinding, announced today that they are now offering their stump removal services directly to homeowners. For many years, the company has only worked with professional contractors. The service is available throughout Greater Vancouver.

"Stump grinding is the quick, environmentally friendly way to remove a tree stump and roots," said Dan Cacic, certified arborist and President of StumpMaster. "It's the least disruptive and most effective method."

Stump grinding uses a high speed cutter wheel with fixed carbide teeth. The tool grinds the stump and roots into small wood chips. The resulting hole can be refilled with soil and re-established with grass or plants. The grinding approach is preferable in most cases to manually digging out a stump, which can be time consuming and create risk of injury or damage to tools such as chainsaws. Using larger digging machines such as backhoes tends to damage plants and soil while threatening underground utilities and pavement.

StumpMaster is known for outstanding service and good value. The company is insured. For more information, visit <http://www.stumpmaster.ca>.
