

New Innovative SEO Company Launches With A Focus On Mobile Internet Demand

January 01, 2016

January 01, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Life Experience Solutions is proud to announce that they have now completely opened for business in offering SEO services that focus on mobile Internet. They have collated a range of data on the growth of mobile and internet marketing, which has made them experts in their field. Through this data, they have been able to develop new strategies and techniques that business owners need to access in order to remain relevant. Their SEM and SEO services are already being positively received.

Michael Anderson from Life Experience Solutions says: "The world of internet never stands still and it is intricately linked to the world of technology, which also constantly changes. The greatest change over the past few years is the emergence of mobile technology, and businesses must respond to the fact that their customers now access websites through their mobile devices. We have all the necessary services to ensure our clients can meet this demand."

As a new Pittsburgh SEO company, the business offers comprehensive services. These include social media optimization, online reputation management, ppc campaigns, and real time social media analytics. What sets them apart, however, is that they focus very strongly on mobile marketing. They ensure all the sites they work for are optimized for mobile Internet, as well as use localized services. Those are two vital elements that contribute to the success of an online business.

The works completed by Life Experience Solutions to date have been very positively received. "We've looked at a lot of SEO solutions but these guys were the smartest decision," says Terry Vassar of Windows R Us. "They have the right strategy and they are very knowledgeable about the online field."

The company also offers full Pittsburgh web design services. They specialize on eCommerce website and guarantee that they offer affordable solutions. All websites that they design are mobile optimized as well. "A website should not just look pretty and draw attention," adds Michael Anderson. "The most important role of a website is to attract and engage the user, as well as communicate your brand and raise awareness about your product or service."

Customers are encouraged to contact the company as soon as possible to learn about the solutions they have for them. For inquires email at info@lifeexperiencesolutions.com

###

For more information about Life Experience Solutions, contact the company here: Life Experience Solutions Michael Anderson (412) 353-3598 info@lifeexperiencesolutions.com

Life Experience Solutions

SEM & Web Development company that leads by experience and not just theories. We have proven systems that have worked for our clients and the data reports to back it up. If you are a existing or startup business looking SEO services are YOUR Solution.

Website: <http://lifeexperiencesolutions.com/>

Email: info@lifeexperiencesolutions.com

Phone: (412) 353-3598

