

Experimac Offers Service for Vintage Apple Computers

December 29, 2015

December 29, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Experimac says they are one of the only local shops left to offer services for older Apple computers. Their team says they regularly receive customers who've gone to the Apple Store or SimplyMac first with their older Apple computers, only to be turned away.

Experimac offers repairs and upgrades on "vintage" models, offering an alternative for those Apple users who can't find help elsewhere. While older models are still preferred by many users, there isn't a lot of service availability when something goes wrong.

Experimac also offers one-on-one shopping assistance for finding budget-friendly Apple computers, and the local shop offers training classes to help people become acquainted with the Apple OS.

More information can be found at <http://experimac.com/sandy-springs-ga/>.

About Experimac

Experimac works one-on-one with customers to find Apple computers that fit their needs based on criteria including computing requirements and budget. Experimac also offers Apple OS training classes throughout the year.

Contact

Neil Kent, CEO

Experimac

Phone: 770-857-3070

E-mail: neil.kent@experimac.com

Website: <http://experimac.com>

###

For more information about EXPERIMAC SANDY SPRINGS, contact the company here:EXPERIMAC SANDY SPRINGS

EXPERIMAC SANDY SPRINGS

Experimac Sandy Springs is a labor of love and passion for owner Neil Kent, a 26 year veteran of the Apple industry.

Neil's career began working on a Mac SE around 1988 producing a series of technical seminars on Macintosh networking.

Website: <http://experimac.com/sandy-springs-ga/>

Powered by PressAdvantage.com