

Nelson Exteriors Emerges as Premier Deck Builder in Atlanta with TrexPro Contractor Status

May 23, 2024

May 23, 2024 -
Nelson Exteriors, a leading exterior contractor, has been awarded the prestigious TrexPro Gold Deck Contractor designation. This recognition signifies their exceptional commitment to building decks using premium Trex products. Headquartered in Marietta, Georgia, Nelson Exteriors has been one of Atlanta?s premiere deck builders for decades.

This honor is a tribute to the company's exceptional commitment to excellence in deck building, with a focus on the Trex product lineup. As deck contractors committed to upholding a superior standard of quality using Trex materials, Nelson Exteriors has successfully showcased its capabilities by undergoing a rigorous application and evaluation process. This involved the construction and submission of three Trex decks, which underwent detailed inspection by a Trex representative, affirming the company's proficiency in delivering outstanding deck construction.

Earning the TrexPro Contractor designation provides Nelson Exteriors with the opportunity to extend the TrexPro Labor Warranty on decking systems their team installs. This is in addition to the multitude of product warranties that Trex already offers. Attainment of this status further facilitates beneficial, direct communication with Trex customer service and sales teams, thus streamlining the development and upkeep of these decking systems.

In addition to deck construction, Nelson Exteriors has honed its expertise in several other exterior home renovation services such as siding installation and window replacements, underscoring its commitment to enhancing the overall aesthetic and functionality of homes. As a Certified Elite Preferred James Hardie Siding installer, they offer high-quality siding options. For homeowners seeking to embark on such projects, learning more about siding installations and other services can be particularly insightful. These achievements signify their expertise in crafting high-performance decks backed by extended manufacturer warranties.

With an impressive history spanning nearly five decades in home exterior contractor services, Nelson Exteriors cements its reputation as a top-tier deck builder in the Metro Atlanta area. In addition to deck building, Nelson Exteriors offers a comprehensive range of exterior renovation services, including siding installation, and window replacement. This commitment to a complete home exterior solution makes them a trusted partner for homeowners.

Scott Nelson, the visionary owner of Nelson Exteriors, expressed his excitement over the accolade, stating, "We are thrilled to be recognized as TrexPro deck installers. This designation not only encapsulates our team's unwavering dedication to deck construction excellence but also reinforces our pledge to furnish our customers with the finest outdoor living experiences. We anticipate our continued collaboration with Trex to supply high-quality decks to Atlanta households."

This significant acknowledgment serves as a reassurance not only to the dedicated team at Nelson Exteriors, deck contractors with a resolve for excellence but also to the homeowners they cater to. It reassures them that their outdoor living spaces are being constructed to the utmost standards of quality. Furthermore, it underscores Nelson Exteriors? persistent commitment to excellence and innovation within the domain of deck construction, ensuring their position as pioneers in the industry.

With Nelson Exteriors leading the charge as TrexPro deck installers in Atlanta, clients can have the utmost confidence that their decking projects are under the care of exceptionally proficient hands. The company invites those interested in enhancing their outdoor living environments to look forward to further exhilarating announcements from Nelson Exteriors.
