

Local Author David Kummer to Engage Fans at New Albany Farmers Market Events

May 13, 2024

Sellersburg, Indiana - May 13, 2024 -
Local author David Kummer is thrilled to share his upcoming participation at the New Albany Farmers Market. Scheduled to begin in May 2024, Kummer will make appearances every other weekend, introducing fans and potential readers to his collection of work, including anticipation for his latest novel, "The Silent Forest," which is expected to release in June.

Kummer's portfolio, a rich collection of horror, mystery, and young adult fiction, distinguishes himself within the literary sphere through compelling narratives enriched with unforeseen developments. His knack for immersing readers into worlds born from his imagination has cultivated a robust fan base. This engagement is amplified by his active presence online, where he interacts with readers through his blog and various social media platforms. The forthcoming events at the New Albany Farmers Market are yet another channel for Kummer to engage with his audience directly, offering autographed copies of his writings and the chance for one-on-one conversations.

"With 'The Silent Forest' nearing its release in about a month and a half, I'm filled with excitement! I will be at the New Albany Farmers Market, interacting with readers every other weekend," Kummer stated. "I invite you to join me! Not only will I have my entire collection, including 'The Silent Forest,' but I will also be available to sign books, answer any questions, and engage in discussions. Additionally, the market features a multitude of exceptional vendors worth exploring."

Kummer's involvement with the New Albany Farmers Market transcends the promotion of his latest book; it's an opportunity to connect with both longstanding supporters and new readers, underlining his dedication to interacting with his audience beyond the digital sphere. The market setting will facilitate discussions on literature, the creative process, and the inspirations behind his work, providing a glimpse into the creative mind influenced by the art of storytelling.
