December 31, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Rayzesst Stickers, Signs & Window Tinting announced today that it is now offering automobile and commercial window tinting in the Florence, South Carolina area. Rayzesst, which has offered signs and decals, banners, vehicle graphics and more for many years, moved recently into the window tinting business. The company is able to tint windows for residential and commercial buildings, passenger cars and commercial vehicles.

"Window tinting helps you preserve the value of what you have behind the window, whether it's your car interior or your nice furniture," says the owner. "We can keep out the heat and harmful rays of the sun" and you won't be squinting so much, either."

Window tinting reduces interior fading and damage. Rayzesst's tinting solutions, which utilize professional grade window film, can block 99% of damaging ultraviolet rays. Tinted windows also help block heat to keep cars and rooms cool and comfortable, lowering the bills for AC and auto fuel at the same time. The films used by Rayzesst carry warranties against fading, bubbling, peeling, blistering, flaking or delamination. They are protected by a durable scratch resistant coating.
