May 17, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

TPG - The Plant Gallery, a premier destination for gardening and landscaping solutions in New Orleans, has expanded its horizons by acquiring Cicero's Gardens Horticultural Services. This move is set to redefine horticultural excellence in New Orleans, merging two of the region's top landscaping companies for enhanced service offerings.

Founded in 1983, Cicero's Gardens Horticultural Services is a full-scale residential and commercial landscaping company serving metro New Orleans, including Metairie, LaPlace, and the Northshore. The professional landscaping company specializes in initial design and implementation, in addition to ongoing maintenance. With a strong commitment to using only the finest products sourced from experienced local growers, Cicero's Gardens Horticultural Services has built a reputation for excellent customer satisfaction across a comprehensive range of landscaping services.

The strategic acquisition blends Cicero's Gardens Horticultural Services' distinguished landscape design services with TPG - The Plant Gallery's extensive plant nursery offerings, promising to elevate the standards of residential and commercial landscaping across New Orleans.

Kenneth Rabalais, Jr., CEO of TPG - The Plant Gallery, expressed his enthusiasm for the acquisition, saying, "This acquisition was at the perfect timing with our new operation center at 1620 Airline Drive in Metairie. TPG has added a new account manager position to be between the horticulture crew and the client. This communication for the client has been a great addition to our maintenance division. I am personally so excited to meet the owners of these beautiful landscapes in the New Orleans area.?"

Since 1991, TPG - The Plant Gallery has provided greater New Orleans with exceptional landscaping installation, design, and maintenance solutions, in addition to event rentals, custom florals, and wedding lighting. From conceptual design to final implementation, TPG - The Plant Gallery aligns each project ? be it a corporate landscape, a home garden, or a wedding floral arrangement ? with the client's distinct style and objectives. The company?s dedicated team of designers and horticulturists work closely with every client to ensure that their space not only meets but exceeds expectations while also reflecting the natural beauty and unique character of New Orleans.

The addition of Cicero?s Gardens Horticultural Services allows TPG - The Plant Gallery to expand its capabilities and continue to offer beautifully crafted, functionally responsive landscapes to the people of New Orleans. Clients of both TPG - The Plant Gallery and Cicero?s Gardens Horticultural Services can look forward to an enhanced service offering, characterized by creativity, efficiency, and the highest standards of customer service.
