Tampa, FL business Ortho Back Up, is proud to announce that they have received a range of positive reviews that have demonstrated that their back brace support belt can provide benefits to the overall health and comfort of their customers. The back brace, which is designed to provide sacroiliac support, can be used both by people who have back issues and by those engaging in heavy lifting or other similar sports. The company is very happy to see that they are playing a meaningful role in improving people's quality of life.

Ortho Back Up spokesperson Robert Kaplan stated: "We fully stand behind the quality and effectiveness of our product, which has been designed following significant clinical research. To see that our customers are experiencing the benefits we intended is wonderful news. We're really happy to see that people have noticed an improved quality of life, be that in reducing back pain or by providing more support during activities that put strain on the back."

The brace has been designed to provide lumbar support. It does this by reducing compression on the lumbar region, which is expected to improve neurological flow and posture. The fully adjustable Velcro system means it is very easy to use and that it fits most waist sizes. It is also FDA registered and Medicare approved.

The product has received a wealth of raving reviews. Here's one review said, "When I had my first attack of sciatica last winter--and I hope my last--I of course tried everything, overdosing on pain pills, visiting an orthopedic surgeon, physical therapy, diet changes and supporting belts," says Brian K. "As to the belts, my doctor told me there's 'no definitive research' on their effectiveness but that many patients reported good results. What I found was that the Ortho Back-Up Belt has a fully adjustable Velcro system for frequent adaptive adjustment. Peel off, firm up, ten different ways."

Abdul said, "4 out of 5 stars Sturdy but Comfortable, I have to admit, I was a bit skeptical when I first opened the package. It just didn't look like something comfortable enough to be useful. I was mistaken... The support is like a hard plastic that is not going to wear out, Cotton lining on the inside support (plastic) is plush (comfortable), Adjustable straps on both sides, Adjustable straps really long to accommodate a larger frame and/or adding an additional lumbar cushion, easy to clean... "

The Ortho Back-Up Belt is designed by physicians, the belt is very comfortable to wear as it is light weight. This also enables extended wear. It is built to last for years, meaning people may be able to enjoy the improved circulation and spine stability for many years. The design places people in a position that is safe and reduces pain without restricting their movement.
