

John Cutter Investigations Opens, Is The Only Company Offering NY Investigative Services from the Perspective of a Former NYPD Professional

January 05, 2016

January 05, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

John Cutter Investigations is a newly opened investigation firm and is bringing leading-edge investigative services to New York state and the surrounding areas with the perspective of an NYPD professional.

John Cutter, who retired from the NYPD after a successful 25-year career that included tenure as a Deputy Chief in the criminal intelligence section, launched John Cutter Investigations to develop an industry-leading investigative firm. His agency specializes in due diligence investigations, hazard/threat assessments, background/field investigations, security consulting, and executive protection.

Cutter's partner, Ronald Lowe, also brings to the table a sterling background. He retired as a Detective 2nd Grade from the NYPD's Intelligence Division in 2007, and over his career, Lowe has received the NYPD's Medal of Valor for acts of bravery relating to rescue efforts on 9/11. He's worked on various assignments and training focused on security, and Lowe now acts as John Cutter Investigations' point of contact with strategic partners around the world while developing plans and operational initiatives to produce results for the company's clients.

###

For more information about John Cutter Investigations, contact the company here: John Cutter Investigations

John Cutter Investigations

John Cutter Investigations Inc. (JCI) is unique to the private investigators industry. We are not trying to be like every other company that claims to do everything within the world of investigations and security.

Website: <https://johncutterinvestigations.com>

