Fleet Cost & Care Unveils Cutting-Edge Updates, Cementing Role Among Top Fleet Management Consulting Companies

September 24, 2024

DETROIT, MI - September 24, 2024 -
Fleet Cost & Care has announced a series of updates to improve their fleet management software and mobile apps. These advancements aim to make fleet operations smoother and more efficient for their clients.

Fleet Cost & Care has been a major player in the industry for over 30 years, offering solutions that address various fleet management needs. Their services include fleet management software, crane management, the NexGen software solution, and the Atom mobile app. These tools assist businesses in managing their fleets more effectively, cutting costs, and boosting productivity.

One of the significant updates is a more user-friendly, step-by-step process in their fleet management software. This change helps capture real-time information, reducing the need for paper, cutting down on waiting times, and ensuring that employees can get the information they need quickly. For detailed information about their offerings, you can visit their website at fleetcostcare.com.

"We are committed to providing our customers with the best tools to manage their fleets effectively," said Jeff Curran, CEO of Fleet Cost & Care. "These updates are a direct response to the valuable feedback we've received from our clients. Our goal is to make their operations smoother and more efficient, ultimately leading to greater profitability."

The company has also improved its safety features. These updates include thorough safety inspection checklists that can be completed right on the job site. This approach helps prevent accidents and ensures that fleet operations meet high safety standards.

Another key update is the enhancement of the Atom mobile app. Field employees can now complete safety inspections, take photos, and collect signatures more easily. The app also allows them to enter daily labor information, which is then automatically sent to the administrative staff. This reduces manual errors and saves time.

Fleet Cost & Care continues to offer strong training and support to help businesses use their software effectively. These services make sure that companies can benefit fully from the technology, improving their overall efficiency.

The company has also made improvements to its integration capabilities. Their software now works seamlessly with existing accounting systems, enabling quick invoicing, faster payment processing, and efficient payroll handling. This integration is essential for businesses looking to streamline their financial operations and improve cash flow. More information on their robust consulting services can be found at their fleet management consulting companies page.

"Our primary focus is to enhance the user experience and the functionality of our software and mobile applications," said Curran. "We believe these updates will provide significant value to our customers and help them achieve their business goals."

Along with technological updates, the company is dedicated to customer success. Fleet Cost & Care offers resources like webinars, tutorials, and personalized support to help businesses use their solutions effectively. These resources are designed to help customers streamline operations, gain efficiencies, and drive growth.

Based in Detroit, Michigan, Fleet Cost & Care also serves potential customers from its Atlanta, Georgia office, offering local expertise and personalized service. The company's wide range of services positions it among the top fleet management consulting companies, consistently delivering practical solutions for efficient fleet operation.

Fleet Cost & Care shows its commitment to the industry through various sponsorships, including partnerships with IndyCar and Castrol Toyota Racing. These partnerships reflect the company's dedication not just to providing excellent software solutions but also to supporting the broader community of fleet operators and motorsport fans.

Fleet Cost & Care continues to innovate and adapt, providing advanced solutions that meet the changing needs of the fleet management industry. By listening to customer feedback and investing in technology, the company aims to offer tools that help businesses run their fleets more efficiently, ensuring ongoing success and growth.
