Vertigo, characterized by intense dizziness and a loss of balance, significantly disrupts the lives of many individuals. Dr. Harrison, a respected vertigo chiropractor at The Balanced Atlas, utilizes the upper cervical chiropractic method to effectively manage and treat this condition. This technique focuses on correcting minor misalignments in the upper spine, which are often the root cause of vertigo. Patients treated at the clinic have reported notable decreases in the severity and frequency of vertigo episodes, leading to improved stability and quality of life.

In addition to vertigo, The Balanced Atlas is a crucial resource for individuals suffering from chronic headaches. Under Dr. Harrison's care, patients receive targeted treatments aimed at realigning the spine to alleviate the neurological and vascular disturbances that can lead to severe headaches. As an experienced headache chiropractor, Dr. Harrison?s approach is holistic and tailored to each individual, ensuring that the underlying causes of headaches are addressed, which promotes long-term relief and prevents recurrence.

The clinic also offers specialized care for patients recovering from concussions. Concussions, resulting from significant impacts to the head, can lead to persistent cognitive, physical, and emotional symptoms. Dr. Harrison?s expertise in concussion management involves gentle spinal manipulations that help alleviate these symptoms by restoring proper alignment and neurological function. Each treatment plan is carefully customized to meet the specific needs of the patient, aiding in their recovery and long-term health.
