

David Kummer Launches Exciting Book Tour for "The Silent Forest" This Summer

June 11, 2024

Sellersburg, Indiana - June 11, 2024 -
David Kummer, an emerging author known for his horror, mystery, thrillers, and young adult fiction, has announced a book tour for his latest release, "The Silent Forest." The Silent Forest Book Tour will include a series of author events in the Madison and New Albany/Jeffersonville areas this summer.

These events will feature live readings from different chapters of his new book, a giveaway of signed copies of his works, a chance to win a $20 Amazon gift card, opportunities to purchase signed copies, and live Q&A sessions with the author. The book is available online through Amazon and Bookshop.org, and Kummer will also make appearances at the New Albany Farmers Market for in-person purchases.

David Kummer?s "The Silent Forest" is part of his new series called ?The House on the Hill,? a haunted house trilogy that focuses on one family and a small town under attack. This series is designed to appeal to both horror fans and mystery lovers, with character-driven and plot-focused stories. Learn more about this thrilling series on David Kummer?s website.

Kummer expressed his excitement about the tour, stating, "This summer, I'll have author events in Madison and New Albany/Jeffersonville. Keep an eye on this page and my Facebook for updated info. Events will include live chapter readings, a giveaway, signed copies for sale, live Q&A, and more! Get your copy online or visit me at the New Albany Farmers Market."

The book tour schedule is packed with events, including a radio interview on May 31 on WORX 96.7, a launch celebration at Madison Library on June 20, a book signing at Barnes & Noble in Louisville, Kentucky on June 22, a reading at Clarksville Library on July 6, and a reading at Against the Grain Brewery in Louisville, Kentucky on July 10. Each event offers a chance to enter a drawing for signed copies of all his books and a $20 Amazon gift card.

Besides "The Silent Forest," David Kummer has several other works available for readers, including titles featured in his dedicated books section on his website. Fans can stay updated on his latest news and upcoming projects by visiting his website and blog, where he shares updates about his work, insights into his writing process, and other related content.

Commenting on his experiences and journey as an author, David Kummer shared, "Writing has always been a way for me to connect with others and tell stories that resonate. The Silent Forest Book Tour is an exciting opportunity to meet readers in person, hear their thoughts, and share more about my writing process."

Originally from Madison, Indiana, Kummer?s work is deeply influenced by his upbringing in this small town on the Ohio River. It provides a rich backdrop for many of his novels. He now lives in New Albany with his wife and works full-time as an English teacher for 9th graders when he is not writing.

David Kummer also maintains a presence on Goodreads, where readers can interact with him, ask questions, and follow on Goodreads. His profile showcases his extensive body of work, including titles like "The Misery House" and "The Manual of Moments." Kummer recently set a goal to read 25 books in 2024, reflecting his passion for literature and continuous engagement with his craft.

Kummer's dedication to his writing and his community is evident in his continuous efforts to make his books accessible and engaging for a wide audience. The book tour not only offers an opportunity for readers to meet the author but also to gain deeper insights into "The Silent Forest" and his other works.
