LONDON, UK - June 10, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

On 10 June 2024, agileKRC Ltd., a pioneer in Agile project management training, will unveil its new online training course for the PRINCE2 Agile Practitioner certification, targeted at professionals seeking to excel in Agile project environments. This initiative, launched in London, is tailored to meet the demands of a post-pandemic world where online education is now the norm. Professionals can now leverage the advantages of learning from anywhere at any time, marrying the governance of PRINCE2 with the flexibility of Agile methods. This course is designed not just for project managers but also for those new to such frameworks, aiming to provide comprehensive skills that address current and future project management needs.

Simon Buehring, Managing Director of agileKRC, expressed enthusiasm about the new offering, stating, "The PRINCE2 Agile Practitioner course is more than just training; it's an essential toolkit for today's project managers. Combining PRINCE2's structured approach with the adaptability of Agile practices meets the urgent need for flexible yet robust project management. This blend ensures that our learners are equipped to handle the complexities of contemporary projects efficiently." This insightful approach by agileKRC reflects a deep understanding of the market's necessity for training that supports both the methodological rigour and the adaptive capacities needed in dynamic project environments.

For those interested in further details or to register for the course, please visit agileKRC's PRINCE2 Agile Practitioner course page. This online resource is a gateway to understanding how the PRINCE2 Agile Practitioner training can transform one's career by embedding proven project management frameworks into the fluid world of Agile. This program is designed to be accessible from any device, further enhancing its appeal to professionals who value flexibility and efficiency in their learning journey. Consider exploring this opportunity to advance your project management expertise in a way that aligns with the latest industry trends and practices.

Further emphasizing the benefits, Simon Buehring remarked, "Our approach to integrating PRINCE2 and Agile methodologies in one training program is not just about knowledge, but about applying that knowledge effectively in real-world scenarios. This makes our learners highly competent in managing successful projects across various industries." This kind of training is crucial for professionals who aim to lead projects with confidence and adaptability. Whether you are a seasoned Scrum Master, a project manager, or new to project management, the PRINCE2 Agile Practitioner certification equips you with the tools necessary to excel in fast-paced and ever-changing project environments, ensuring project success while adhering to proven principles.

The ripple effects of this innovative online training program are expected to be significant. Not only will it raise the competency bar among project managers, but it will also set new standards for the integration of structured and agile project management practices. Looking to the future, agileKRC anticipates a surge in demand for such integrative skills as businesses increasingly seek project managers who can navigate both traditional and agile project landscapes effectively. The PRINCE2 Agile Practitioner certification is poised to become a key differentiator in the job market, making it an invaluable asset for professionals aiming to enhance their career trajectories in project management.
