

Classic City Orthodontics Expands Braces Options in Watkinsville for Personalized Care

June 26, 2024

June 26, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Classic City Orthodontics has announced they are expanding their orthodontic services in Watkinsville, offering different types of braces to meet the varied needs of their patients. The practice focuses on providing high-quality care with innovative and patient-centered treatments.

During the initial appointment, patients undergo thorough examinations that include photos and x-rays. This helps the orthodontist determine the best treatment plan and allows for a detailed discussion of the patient's needs and goals, ensuring a personalized treatment approach. Detailed information about the initial appointment process can be found on the Classic City Orthodontics website.

The practice offers several types of braces. Traditional metal braces are known for their durability and effectiveness in fixing a wide range of orthodontic issues. For a more discreet alternative, ceramic braces blend in with the teeth's natural color. The advanced Suresmile® system uses 3D imaging and robotics to create precise and customized braces, aimed at reducing treatment time and discomfort. Those interested in learning more about the various types of braces available can visit the Classic City Orthodontics website for additional information.

Aligners are also available as a less visible option for straightening teeth. These custom-made, removable devices gradually shift teeth into their correct positions, offering an aesthetic and convenient solution. For more details about the aligners, potential patients can explore the Classic City Orthodontics website.

Dr. Tradd Harter, Orthodontist at Classic City Orthodontics, said, "We understand that every patient has unique needs and preferences. By expanding our range of orthodontic options, we can better serve our community and provide effective solutions for various orthodontic issues."

The practice also offers emergency services for urgent orthodontic problems like broken braces, loose wires, or severe discomfort. These services ensure that patients receive prompt care when they need it the most. Classic City Orthodontics' website provides comprehensive information about their emergency services.

Financial considerations play an important role in orthodontic treatment. Classic City Orthodontics provides detailed financial information to make treatments more affordable. They accept most insurance plans, assist with insurance claims, and offer various payment options to fit different financial situations. To learn more about the financial options available, visit Classic City Orthodontics' website.

Community involvement is also a priority for Classic City Orthodontics. They participate in philanthropic activities and partner with local organizations, contributing to events and initiatives that give back to the community. This reflects their commitment to making a positive impact beyond providing orthodontic care.

With the expansion, braces in Watkinsville are now more accessible. Patients can choose from traditional metal braces, which are durable and effective, ceramic braces that are more discreet, or the cutting-edge Suresmile® system for faster and more precise treatment. Aligners are available for those who prefer a removable and less visible option for straightening teeth.

This expansion highlights Classic City Orthodontics' dedication to providing comprehensive orthodontic care. Patients in Watkinsville now have more options to choose from, tailored to their individual needs. The expanded services include various types of braces and aligners, enhancing patients' confidence and treatment satisfaction. For detailed information about the services offered, patients can visit Classic City Orthodontics' website.

For patients seeking metal braces in Watkinsville, this traditional choice remains reliable for correcting various orthodontic issues.

Speaking about the expansion, Dr. Tradd Harter added, "Our goal is to make high-quality orthodontic care accessible to more patients in Watkinsville. By offering a wider range of braces and aligners, we can provide treatments that meet the unique needs of each patient."

For those interested in clear braces in Watkinsville, ceramic braces offer a less noticeable alternative, blending in with the natural color of the teeth.

The practice's use of advanced technology and personalized care ensures that patients get effective and efficient treatment. The Suresmile® system, which utilizes 3D imaging and robotics, exemplifies their commitment to modern orthodontic care.

The expanded range of orthodontic options at Classic City Orthodontics in Watkinsville is a significant step in improving access to quality care. Whether patients need traditional metal braces, ceramic braces, or innovative aligners, they can find a solution tailored to their needs. This expansion reflects the practice's dedication to patient-centered care and community involvement, ensuring that Watkinsville residents have access to diverse and effective orthodontic treatments.
