January 06, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

An outsourcing business with headquarters in Las Vegas, NV, has announced that they are very happy to see that they have received a new stream of positive reviews. These reviews consistently discuss the quality of the service they offer and the benefits clients have experienced by signing up for them. The 123Employee review increase comes after the company has opened the latest in virtual call centers.

L.J. Gacho from 123 Employee says: "When you launch a new service, it is always a bit tense because you don't know whether or not people will receive it as positively as you hope. We're very happy to see that people love our service and that they are already noticing the benefits it offers. And, let's face it, it feels good to be told you're doing something right."

The new service offered by 123Employee has been improving the world as a whole. They have their call centers in the Philippines, where they employ local people who have the best possible English speaking skills. In fact, the company enables potential clients to hear the voices of the virtual assistants before they decide to sign up. In basing themselves in the Philippines, the company is enabling one of the impoverished communities in the world to better itself, both through employment and education, while at all times remaining committed to delivering the highest quality service.

123Employee's website lists the various reviews that have been received to date and new ones are added on an almost daily basis. One satisfied customer says, "Hey this is Mike Evans here, and I just wanna share how much I really enjoy working with 123Employee, and the reason I enjoy working with them is because they make me money. I have a full time assistant. He's in the Philippines and he works at the same hours as me. He comes in at 12 noon my time and leave at 9pm my time, which is good for me cause I get up at 10am, and start working around noon. But the most important thing this guy has done for me after I trained him is that he is now able to come up with ideas on his own to help me make money."
