

Sunday School Launches Engaging New Curriculum for Easter: "Heroes of Holy Week"

June 14, 2024

Sellersburg, Indiana - June 14, 2024 -
The Sunday School Store has announced the launch of a new curriculum called "Heroes of Holy Week." This new Easter curriculum is designed for children and aims to teach about the key events leading up to Easter in a way that is engaging and accessible for young learners. This follows the company's tradition of offering detailed and flexible educational materials suitable for various age groups and settings. For more comprehensive Easter lessons, visit their website.

Tony Kummer, the founder of The Sunday School Store, stated, "We're thrilled to introduce 'Heroes of Holy Week.' We've put a lot of thought into making this curriculum both informative and enjoyable for children. Our goal is to help churches and educators around the world share the message of Easter with the next generation."

"Heroes of Holy Week" lets children dive into the days before Easter through lessons, activities, and crafts. These materials highlight the important figures and events of Holy Week. The Sunday School Store believes this new addition will be a valuable resource for churches aiming to deepen children's understanding of Easter.

The Sunday School Store specializes in a range of educational materials designed to make Bible lessons interesting for young minds. Among their featured products are the 52-week curriculum, free downloads of lesson plans and activity sheets, and the Gospel Jesus curriculum. Their resources cater to various age groups, from elementary to toddlers, ensuring each developmental stage is well addressed. Explore their 52-week curriculum on their website.

For those interested in hearing what others think about The Sunday School Store, the company has received overwhelmingly positive reviews from its users. Their review page at https://sundayschool.store/pages/reviews shows high satisfaction rates, with 95% of 2970 reviews being positive. Reviewers often commend the flexibility and usability of the curriculum materials. For instance, Tina Enriquez recently commented, "Thank you so much for writing curriculum that is Bible-based and ready to go. I love that the lessons are adaptable to go deeper or teach at a lower level, depending upon what age group I have. God bless."

The new Easter curriculum release adds to previous news updates from The Sunday School Store. The company remains committed to providing high-quality resources for children's ministry, stressing the importance of early biblical education.

"Heroes of Holy Week" also aligns with the store's ongoing effort to provide region-specific content and adjust prices to local currencies. This makes curriculum materials accessible to a global audience. This initiative highlights The Sunday School Store's dedication to meeting the diverse needs of churches around the world.
