The company provides full-time office packages, virtual office services, meeting room rentals, and private offices as needed, each with essential amenities and services.

Their full-time office packages are perfect for professionals who need a dedicated workspace. For $35 per hour, businesses can rent meeting rooms equipped with high-speed internet, a 65" Samsung monitor, and a Clarus glassboard. These rooms are designed for a professional setting for meetings or workshops. Another important option is private offices on demand, which give clients access to fully equipped offices at $20 per hour or $100 per day.

Full-time office packages provide a steady professional environment for independent workers. Virtual office services help businesses that need a professional address and support services at a lower cost.
