Mold Removal Company Branches Out Into Fire And Water Damage Restoration

January 07, 2016

January 07, 2016 -
VCG Fire & Water Damage Restoration Miami is a new aspect to the VCG business. They have been operating for many years, but have never actually marketed their water damage and fire damage services. Customers were reporting they would like to have all their services under one roof, however, and VCG was happy to oblige and expand on their services. When it comes to fire damage Miami residents now know they can go to VCG for all their needs.

Bobby Lopez from VCG Fire & Water Damage Restoration Miami says: "Our focus has been on mold removal for many years. In many cases, mold occurs in properties that have experienced a fire and then have water damage on top of that after the fire was put out. Our customers reported quite regularly that they would like us to be involved in repairing that part of the damage as well, thereby avoiding mold in the first place. We're happy to say that we now have trained operatives on board who are able to hand fire and water damage as well."

When it comes to mold remediation Miami residents are warned that mold can cause significant and very real dangers to their health. It can take as little as 24 hours for mold to form in a property that has some type of water damage, at which point it can start to affect the airways of people in the environment. Very often, this happens after a fire and people blame their breathing difficulties on the smoke and ash in the air, when mold is the true culprit.

"When there has been a fire, people expect that breathing is going to be difficult," adds Bobby Lopez. "In reality, however, it is very likely that their issues are caused by the mold that has started to appear. When we come into a property, we check absolutely everything and get rid of any spores of mold, while also repairing the fire and water damage so no new mold starts to form. This leads to a healthy and safe breathing environment."

In terms of water damage Miami residents are urged to consider the various implications of this type of damage on their structure and overall health.

###

For more information about VCG Fire & Water Damage Restoration Miami, contact the company here:VCG Fire & Water Damage Restoration MiamiBobby Lopez(305) 407-2286info@firewaterdamagemiami.com16155 SW 117 AvenueSuite #B17Miami, FL. 33177

VCG Fire & Water Damage Restoration Miami

VCG Fire and water Damage Restoration is a pioneer in the rebuilding business and its experts are speedier to any size catastrophe.

Website: http://firewaterdamagemiami.com/

Email: info@firewaterdamagemiami.com

Phone: (305) 407-2286