A&M Roofing Expands Services in Northern Virginia for All Residential and Commercial Needs

July 02, 2024

MCLEAN, VA - July 02, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

A&M Roofing, a company based in McLean, has announced an expansion of its services to better serve both residential and commercial property owners in Northern Virginia. With more than 20 years of experience, the company is adding new solutions to its already wide range of roofing, gutter, and siding services.

A&M Roofing offers a variety of services, including new roof installations, full roof replacements, and regular maintenance. They specialize in fixing roofs damaged by storms, fallen trees, and general wear and tear. The maintenance work aims to extend the lifespan of roofs and protect properties from leaks and other potential issues. The company also provides HAAG-certified technicians for roof inspections to spot any problems early and give expert maintenance advice.

In addition to traditional roofing services, A&M Roofing is now offering more gutter and siding work. Whether it's a small gutter repair or a complete siding replacement, A&M Roofing's skilled technicians can handle it.

Mark Collins, CEO of A&M Roofing, said, "Over the years, we noticed a growing need for more integrated services. Both homeowners and commercial property owners want reliability and quality in one place. By expanding our services, we aim to be a one-stop solution for all roofing, siding, and gutter needs."

The company is committed to using high-quality materials and employing experienced contractors. All technicians at A&M Roofing are certified and insured, ensuring that each project meets strict safety and quality standards.

Elaine MacConnell, a past client, left a 5-star review for roof replacement. She said, "A&M Roofing replaced my roof and two kitchen skylights. They completed the work quickly and expertly. The costs were better than any other contractor I considered, and their professionalism was outstanding." Her feedback shows the company's dedication to providing excellent service at competitive prices.

For new constructions, A&M Roofing's contractors are experts in roofing installations, ensuring the roofs are built to last. Roof replacement services are typically needed every fifteen to twenty years, depending on the roofing materials used. A&M Roofing's team is skilled at managing these replacements, causing minimal disruption to the property owners' daily routine.

Apart from roofing, the company's gutter and siding services help protect homes from weather-related problems. Damaged or clogged gutters can cause major issues, and A&M Roofing's experts are proficient in both repairs and new installations. Their siding services not only shield homes from the elements but also improve their appearance.

The company's commitment to top-tier service is clear in their thorough inspections conducted by HAAG-certified technicians. These professionals provide detailed assessments and expert advice, helping clients make informed decisions about necessary repairs and maintenance.

Mark Collins added, "In our field, thorough inspections are necessary. Spotting potential problems early can save property owners a lot of time and money. Our HAAG-certified technicians are trained to identify even small issues and provide reliable advice."

A&M Roofing sets itself apart from other companies with its focus on quality materials and skilled craftsmanship. All technicians are certified, ensuring that every project, whether it's a new installation, repair, or maintenance, meets industry standards.

As a trusted McLean roofing contractor, A&M Roofing has earned a reputation for reliability and excellence. Their service area covers Northern Virginia, helping both homeowners and commercial property owners with their extensive range of services.
