GreenMountain GreenWalls Launches Preserved Moss Wall Art Services in Vermont

July 08, 2024

July 08, 2024 -
GreenMountain GreenWalls, a Vermont-based company renowned for its living plant walls and preserved moss art installations, has introduced new services for interior preserved moss wall art. These services are designed for both homes and businesses, aiming to bring the calming effects of nature indoors throughout Northern and Central Vermont.

The company offers two main types of preserved moss art: full moss walls and framed moss wall art. Each type provides unique benefits and aesthetics, with customizable designs that can change the look and feel of any space.

GreenMountain GreenWalls' full moss walls create a lush, soothing environment. These walls are maintenance-free, requiring no water, sunlight, or trimming. They also naturally absorb sound, making spaces quieter and more peaceful. Customers can use these moss walls in their homes or offices to foster a serene atmosphere.

They also offer framed moss wall art that merges artistry with natural elements. These pieces are customizable, allowing clients to pick from various designs, colors, and sizes to fit their decor. Framed moss art is versatile and fits well in different settings, including homes, offices, and restaurants. Installation is simple, enabling clients to enhance their spaces with little effort.

"Our preserved moss wall art aims to bring the beauty and calm of nature into indoor spaces without the associated upkeep," said Andrew Lawrence, spokesperson for GreenMountain GreenWalls. "We believe that our services can transform everyday environments into tranquil sanctuaries, benefiting both personal well-being and overall aesthetics."

GreenMountain GreenWalls is unique in offering living plant wall services in Northern and Central Vermont.

The company is known for its expertise in creating both small and large installations. They pride themselves on making nature accessible to various spaces and budgets, and they offer free consultations to discuss potential projects.

For those interested in learning more, the company?s website provides additional information. They are also active on Facebook, sharing regular updates and project showcases.

"We recently worked with GreenMountain GreenWalls on two large projects, one residential and one commercial," noted High Line Design Studio, expressing their satisfaction. "Brady and his team were AMAZING! They went the extra mile to help us template the perfect shape for a complicated curved wall with an organic-shaped moss feature that integrated with wood, and it turned out better than anticipated. The communication, organization, and trust can?t be beaten. We are looking forward to working with them soon."

GreenMountain GreenWalls, through its commitment to high-quality designs and customer satisfaction, remains a leader in biophilic design. The company expects that their preserved moss art services will appeal to the growing interest in incorporating nature into indoor environments.

By integrating both full moss walls and framed moss wall art, GreenMountain GreenWalls continues to make nature more accessible. Their approach caters to a wide range of spaces and styles, ensuring that anyone can enjoy the tranquility that greenery brings without any hassle.
