

Get Top-Rated Air Duct Cleaning Near Me: Low Country Ducts Expands Services in Southeast South Carolina

July 10, 2024

Ridgeland, South Carolina - July 10, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Low Country Ducts, a family-run business based in Ridgeland and Charleston, South Carolina, has announced that it is expanding its services across Southeast South Carolina. Formerly known as Air Duct South East, the company specializes in commercial and residential ductwork cleaning and other services. They focus on improving indoor air quality through thorough cleaning and maintenance of duct work in homes and offices. This expansion includes services like air duct cleaning, dryer vent cleaning, odor removal, and re-wrapping insulation, which are now available in places like Charleston, Hilton Head Island, Bluffton, and Ridgeland.

"Our mission is to help folks breathe good air, one home and business at a time," says Christopher Ray, a spokesperson for the company. This mission underlines their commitment to improving air quality and, in turn, their clients' health.

Air duct cleaning services remove contaminants from air ducts, which is key for maintaining clean air. The service is generally recommended every 3 to 5 years and can take between 2 to 4 hours depending on the size of the space. Clean air ducts mean better indoor air by removing dust, allergens, and mold spores that could impact health.

Dryer vent cleaning is another important service Low Country Ducts offers. Keeping dryer vents clean helps prevent house fires. Over time, lint can build up and cause vents to overheat, which might ignite the lint. By cleaning these vents regularly, homeowners can greatly reduce this fire risk.

The company's odor removal service addresses persistent smells in homes and businesses. These odors, often caused by mold or mildew, can be tough to get rid of without professional help. This service helps improve overall air quality, making indoor spaces more pleasant and healthier.

Additionally, Low Country Ducts offers re-wrapping insulation for air ducts. Proper insulation is important for energy efficiency in HVAC systems. By re-wrapping ducts, the company helps ensure that heating and cooling systems work at their best, which could lower energy bills for homeowners and businesses.

Christopher Ray also mentioned, "The company was established with an earnest desire to improve air quality by providing exceptional air duct cleaning services." Low Country Ducts has built a solid reputation on trust, transparency, and great service. They have earned high ratings and positive reviews for their reliability and thoroughness.

Their website provides detailed information on how to get free quotes for their various services, showing their commitment to transparency and customer satisfaction. Clients just need to enter their details, and the company will offer an air duct cleaning quote. The process is simple, and the team takes care of all the work.

Low Country Ducts is licensed and insured and is a proud member of the National Association of Duct Cleaning Specialists. Their credibility and adherence to industry standards build further confidence in the services they provide.

To help eliminate airborne pollutants and improve indoor air quality, Low Country Ducts uses industry-standard techniques and equipment. Their thorough approach addresses hidden contaminants that less careful methods might miss.

As the company expands its services, they continue to stress the importance of regular air duct maintenance. Cleaner air ducts lead to better air quality, which helps ease allergy symptoms and eliminates mold odors, creating a healthier environment.

Low Country Ducts uses advanced equipment and methods to ensure thorough cleaning. Their air duct cleaning services align with their mission to improve indoor air in every home and business they serve. Besides air duct and dryer vent cleaning, their services include AC vent cleaning and HVAC coil cleaning, while addressing all aspects of air quality in homes and offices.

As Low Country Ducts continues to grow, they remain committed to their main goal: helping residents and businesses achieve better indoor air quality. Their expansion across Southeast South Carolina allows more customers to benefit from their reliable services and professional expertise.

To learn more about the extensive services Low Country Ducts offers, visit their website. Interested individuals can also check out their Facebook page or email them directly at Chris@LowCountryDucts.com. Their website also provides valuable educational articles on air quality maintenance and other related tips, making it a useful resource for both current and potential clients looking to improve their indoor environments.

###

For more information about Low Country Ducts, contact the company here: Low Country Ducts Christopher Ray 843-645-3828 chris@lowcountryducts.com Low Country Ducts 2635 N Okatie Highway Ridgeland, SC 29936 (843) 645-3828

Low Country Ducts

Low Country Ducts is expanding throughout Southeast South Carolina. Christopher Ray, a spokesperson for the company, said, "Our mission is to help folks breathe good, clean air one home and business at a time by providing A-Plus air duct cleaning."

Website: <https://lowcountryducts.com>

Email: chris@lowcountryducts.com

Phone: 843-645-3828

