GreenMountain GreenWalls, based in Vermont, is pleased to introduce its latest service in green solutions. This company, known for its expertise in living plant walls and preserved moss art, is expanding its range to include more options for Preserved Moss Walls.

Preserved Moss Walls are gaining popularity among homeowners and business owners looking for low-maintenance, attractive green solutions. These installations bring the beauty and tranquility of nature indoors while needing very little upkeep. They are designed to last between 10 to 15 years under typical indoor conditions, making them both visually appealing and sustainable.

Andrew Lawrence, managing partner of GreenMountain GreenWalls, explains the benefits: "Preserved Moss Walls provide a unique way to incorporate biophilic design principles into any space. They promote well-being and boost productivity while requiring very little maintenance. This balance of beauty and practicality aligns perfectly with our mission to bring the environment into built spaces."

GreenMountain GreenWalls offers several types of preserved moss art, including moss walls, framed pieces, and moss sculptures. These installations use real moss that has been carefully preserved. Unlike living walls, the preserved moss requires no watering, pruning, or special lighting, making it an excellent choice when maintenance is a concern.

One client shared their positive experience: "We recently worked with GreenMountain GreenWalls on two large projects, one residential and one commercial. Brady and his team were AMAZING! They went the extra mile to help us template the perfect shape for a complicated curved wall with an organic-shaped moss feature that integrated with wood, and it turned out better than anticipated. The communication, organization, and trust can't be beat. We are looking forward to working with them soon," said Highline Design Studio.

In addition to Preserved Moss Walls, GreenMountain GreenWalls also offers Living Plant Walls and Interior Landscaping. Living walls add a dynamic element to interior and exterior spaces by creating vertical gardens. These installations range from small 2x3 ft setups to large 2,000 sq ft commercial walls. Each installation is customized to fit the specific needs and budget of the client.

Interior Landscaping involves placing planters, potted plants, and containers throughout a space. This service aims to infuse life and vibrancy into any area through the strategic use of plants. GreenMountain GreenWalls works with clients to create custom interior landscapes that reflect the aesthetic and functional goals of the space.

Lawrence further explains, "Each service we provide, from living plant walls to interior landscaping, is designed to introduce the calming and refreshing elements of nature into indoor environments. We focus on the unique needs of every client, ensuring that the green installations positively impact their space."

GreenMountain GreenWalls also offers flexible maintenance programs to keep all installations vibrant and healthy over time. These programs can be customized to meet the specific demands of each space, from weekly to monthly services. For larger installations, integrated irrigation systems are available to simplify upkeep.

The inclusion of preserved moss walls in interior design is being well-received in many sectors. More businesses and homeowners are choosing these green installations to create relaxing atmospheres and foster well-being among occupants. Serving Northern and Central Vermont, GreenMountain GreenWalls is at the forefront of nature-centric design solutions.
