July 17, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Winters Heating and Cooling has announced a new offering for homeowners in Indiana seeking dependable HVAC services in Indiana. The company now provides a 10-year warranty on all new equipment and associated labor for their services. This warranty reflects their commitment to delivering quality and reliable heating and cooling solutions to residents.

"We are thrilled to offer this extended 10-year warranty on new equipment," said Chuck Kruger, CEO of Winters Heating and Cooling. "This significant extension underscores our confidence in the quality of our products and services. We believe it will provide our customers with added peace of mind, knowing that their investment is protected for a decade."

Winters Heating and Cooling is known for offering a wide range of HVAC services. These include furnace services, air conditioning services, duct cleaning, indoor air quality solutions, dryer vent cleaning, and membership in their Comfort Club maintenance program. The new warranty will cover new equipment installed for all these services, ensuring homeowners can rely on the long-term performance of their HVAC systems.

One of the core services Winters Heating and Cooling offers is Furnace Services. They provide thorough repair, maintenance, and installation for furnaces. Their technicians are highly trained to diagnose and fix any issues, making sure heating systems work efficiently and reliably. This new warranty will now cover new equipment installed during these furnace services, providing customers with additional security.

Another important service Winters Heating and Cooling offers is air conditioning services. They handle repairs, maintenance, and installation for various air conditioning systems. Regular maintenance and timely repairs can extend the life of an air conditioning unit, and the new warranty will ensure any new equipment needed is covered for ten years. This is especially beneficial for those looking for AC Repair, a service Winters Heating and Cooling excels in.

"Providing a decade-long warranty on new equipment aligns with our objective to deliver superior customer service and reliability," added Kruger. "It reflects our dedication to maintaining high standards, ensuring that our customers receive the best possible service for years to come."

The company also emphasizes the importance of duct cleaning to improve indoor air quality and system efficiency. Regular cleaning can reduce allergens and pollutants in the home. The extended warranty on new equipment will now cover any new equipment involved in this service, adding more value to what they offer.

Winters Heating and Cooling also focuses on indoor air quality solutions, offering products such as air filtration systems, humidifiers, and dehumidifiers. With the warranty on new equipment, customers can trust these systems will work effectively without extra costs for covered parts and labor over the next ten years.

Dryer Vent Cleaning is another service Winters Heating and Cooling provides to enhance home safety and efficiency. Their technicians help prevent potential fire hazards by making sure dryer vents are clean and functional.

The Comfort Club maintenance program offered by Winters Heating and Cooling continues to give its members benefits like discounted repairs, priority scheduling, extended warranties, and annual inspections and maintenance services.

Winters Heating and Cooling is also known for their prompt and professional service. They are available 24/7 for emergency services, showing their commitment to quick and effective customer support. Financing options, subject to credit approval, are also available to help customers manage the costs of repairs or new installations.

With this new 10-year warranty on all new equipment, Winters Heating and Cooling aims to further build customer trust and satisfaction. The comprehensive coverage supports the company's promise of quality and reliability in all its HVAC services for homeowners in Indiana.
