Rose Sanders Law Firm Files Class Action Against CenterPoint Energy on Behalf of Houston Business Owners

July 26, 2024

Texas, Texas - July 26, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Houston, Texas ? The Rose Sanders Law Firm, PLLC is preparing to file a class action lawsuit against CenterPoint Energy on behalf of business owners in the medical, fitness, and beauty industries. This includes gym owners, yoga studios, salon owners, surgical hospitals, medical spas, dentists, florists, and other small businesses such as health and wellness centers and caterers. To date, the firm has signed 38 clients.

The lawsuit seeks class-action status and claims negligence, gross negligence, and other violations of law against CenterPoint Energy. The allegations state that CenterPoint Energy has repeatedly failed to perform at the level expected of a competent electricity provider. Specifically, the lawsuit asserts that CenterPoint has failed to: Adequately inspect, maintain, and upgrade equipment; Properly train personnel; Implement a competent storm plan; and Adequately respond to storm impacts.

The lawsuit stems from CenterPoint Energy?s inadequate preparation and response to Hurricane Beryl on July 8th. CenterPoint relied on inaccurate out-of-town weather reports and failed to position linemen in Houston before the hurricane. Consequently, 25,000 customers remain without power.

Business owners have suffered significant losses due to this negligence. Items such as injectables, Botox, flowers, food for catering, and herbal medicines have spoiled. Surgeries were canceled, causing doctors to work overtime and cover costs out of their own pockets. Business insurance covers only up to $10,000 in losses, while some clients have incurred several hundred thousand dollars in damages.

The lawsuit highlights CenterPoint Energy's history of inadequate responses, dating back to Winter Storm Uri in 2021. Despite having 3.5 years to address these issues, CenterPoint has failed to make necessary improvements, resulting in ongoing significant financial harm to Houston businesses.

Texas Governor Greg Abbott has condemned CenterPoint Energy's actions and initiated an investigation. This lawsuit aims to hold CenterPoint Energy accountable and force the company to take the necessary actions to prevent future negligence.

"We are committed to #takethepowerback for hardworking Houstonians who deserve better," said the Rose Sanders Law Firm. "We encourage any affected businesses to join our lawsuit by the end of the day Friday. We hope that by then, power will be restored to all Houstonians."
