Jahnke Heating & Air Conditioning, a local heating and air conditioning contractor, is now offering assistance in obtaining Inflation Reduction Act HVAC Tax Credits to Medford, Oregon area homeowners. These rebates and tax credits are designed to encourage the installation of energy-efficient heating and cooling systems, which can help reduce the carbon footprint of homes.

Jeremy Richey, President of Jahnke Heating & Air Conditioning, stressed how these rebates can benefit homeowners. "Rebates are available for energy-efficient heat pumps and ductless heat pumps," said Richey. "We're dedicated to helping our customers maximize their savings by guiding them through the rebate and tax credit application process. This presents a perfect opportunity for homeowners to upgrade their current heating and cooling system especially if it?s more than 10 years old."

Since January 1, 2023, the Inflation Reduction Act has offered various incentives for homeowners to adopt energy-efficient technologies. These include significant rebates and tax credits for high-efficiency HVAC equipment like heat pumps, air conditioners, and water heaters. Jahnke Heating & Air Conditioning is ready to assist homeowners in navigating the application process to ensure they get the most benefits possible.

Jahnke Heating & Air Conditioning is committed to providing high-quality, energy-efficient solutions and offers products from top brands like Mitsubishi. "Mitsubishi provides high-efficiency equipment that qualifies for these rebates," Richey noted. "Their products are energy-efficient and improve indoor air quality and overall home comfort."

Although the Inflation Reduction Act HVAC tax credits are available until the end of 2034, the credit is scheduled for reduction at least twice. While the credit remains at 30% for systems installed before December 31, 2032, it then reduces to 26% in 2033 and 22% in 2034. To receive the maximum credit, homeowners should install HVAC upgrades by 2032. Time is of the essence for homeowners seeking maximum savings on an upgraded home heating and cooling system.
