

Houston Social Security Expert Holding Free Educational Workshop in January

January 07, 2016

January 07, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Adolfo Rodriguez, a Houston, TX retirement income planning and Social Security expert is making available to the public an educational workshop focused on helping baby boomers with their Social Security. Since Congress passed the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2015, Social Security options have been substantially changed. Anyone filing for Social Security needs an advisor knowledgeable in this area before filing with the Social Security administration.

In his upcoming workshop, Adolfo will cover the impact of these changes, as well as show attendees how to get the most income from Social Security that you can.

The workshop will be held at the University of Houston Clear Lake Campus on Saturday, January 23, 2016 at 10am in Bayou Building Room 1218. Baby boomers and retirees interested in attending should contact A/R Financial Group at 281-206-0066 or online at www.mysocialsecurityrescue.com

?In the Congressional Budget Act of 2015, there is now an April 30, 2016 deadline to file under the old rules. It is imperative that anyone filing for Social Security get counsel on these changes first,? explains Adolfo Rodriguez.

The Social Security Administration is not allowed or able to assist you with maximizing your Social Security retirement benefits. The only way to get this information is to either do a lot of research on the subject, or have a knowledgeable advisor help you with your Social Security filing.

?Too many people make mistakes when it comes to their Social Security benefits.? Continues Adolfo, ?Without help from an expert, you can easily lose thousands of dollars in retirement benefits over you and your spouse?s lifetime. Why not spend a few minutes to learn how you can maximize your Social Security as well as how to create a solid overall retirement income plan.?

Those interested in attending the educational workshop hosted by Adolfo Rodriguez should contact A/R
