August 29, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

OnSite Environmental Services has announced it is expanding its operations by introducing new waste management services tailored for clients in Palmetto, Georgia. This locally-owned company, well-regarded for its waste management solutions, began its service offerings in January 2024. They now provide a wider range of services, including 15 and 20-yard dumpster rentals and comprehensive junk removal services.

Residents and business owners can benefit from the various waste management options available through OnSite Environmental Services. By offering dumpster rentals and junk removal services, the company aims to help maintain cleaner and safer environments across Atlanta and its surrounding communities. Fully insured, their services cater to homeowners, contractors, landlords, brokers, realtors, tenants, and property management groups.

The 15 and 20-yard dumpsters allow clients to choose the appropriate size based on their specific needs. Rentals can be arranged for one or three days, offering flexibility for both short-term and extended projects.

The rental process is simple, involving scheduling the rental, preparing for delivery, filling the dumpster, and scheduling a pickup. OnSite Environmental Services has also introduced an online booking system for added convenience. This system ensures transparent pricing and easy scheduling.

Beyond dumpster rentals, the company offers junk removal services for both commercial and residential customers. This service simplifies getting rid of unwanted items. OnSite Environmental Services' team visits the client's location, collects the items, and disposes of them according to environmental guidelines. This service can be scheduled through their online system as well.
