BEDFORD, MA - August 09, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Revise, Inc., a leading energy efficiency solutions provider, is participating in an initiative to offer no-cost home weatherization services to income-eligible residents in Brockton, thanks to their existing partnership with Mass Save®. Founded in 2016, Revise, Inc. aims to make every homeowner a fan of energy efficiency, partnering with Mass Save® to provide zero-percent financing, generous rebates, and financial incentives. With locations in Bedford and Haverhill, MA, Revise, Inc. is dedicated to making energy-saving upgrades accessible to all.

As part of the Mass Save® Community First Partnership, Revise, Inc. is collaborating with the Cape Verdean Association of Brockton (CVAB) and the City of Brockton to perform no-cost Home Energy Assessments for single-family and multi-unit homes. The goal of this collaboration is to complete 350 home weatherizations and 50 equipment upgrades annually in Brockton, enhancing the community's energy efficiency.

Homeowners are encouraged to schedule a no-cost Home Energy Assessment, conducted by Revise, Inc., a Mass Save® partner and preferred home performance contractor. During this assessment, an experienced home performance contractor from Revise, Inc. will conduct a thorough evaluation, including a health and safety check, an insulation assessment, and the installation of Instant Savings Measures. These measures can include programmable thermostats, water-saving devices, and energy-saving power strips. The assessment also involves reviewing energy-saving opportunities and preparing customized documents explaining the benefits and incentives available to homeowners to make recommended energy-efficiency home improvements.

One key benefit of the no-cost Home Energy Assessment is the comprehensive health and safety evaluation. This includes testing the heating system, hot water system, and combustion appliances and identifying any potential health and safety concerns. Additionally, the insulation evaluation targets key areas such as the basement, exterior walls, and attic to eliminate drafts and ensure proper ventilation. This thorough assessment helps homeowners understand their energy consumption and identify opportunities for cost-effective upgrades.

Mass Save® covers the cost of the no-cost Home Energy Assessment, making it accessible to all homeowners. Mass Save® also offers 0% financing through the HEAT Loan for energy-efficient home improvements, requiring installation by a participating contractor like Revise, Inc. This financing option allows homeowners to make significant energy-saving upgrades without the burden of upfront investments.

Revise, Inc.'s comprehensive approach to home energy solutions focuses on reducing unnecessary energy consumption, promoting a greener future, and helping homeowners save money. The company's expertise in electricity efficiency and energy bill reduction makes it a valuable partner for the Brockton community.

By participating in the Brockton energy efficiency initiative, residents can access instant energy savings measures, receive customized home energy reports, and take advantage of significant rebates and incentives. Owner-occupied single-family homes may be eligible for 75% off approved insulation services, while moderate-income households and rental units in 1-4 unit homes could qualify for 100% off approved insulation services.

Revise, Inc.'s collaboration with CVAB and the City of Brockton aims to make homes and rental properties more comfortable and affordable. The partnership, sponsored by Eversource and National Grid, strives to increase participation in energy efficiency programs and create sustainable living environments.
