Richardson, TX - August 14, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Go Industries Inc. has announced the launch of a new product designed specifically for law enforcement vehicles. The new Push Bumper Center Section for the Chevrolet Tahoe aims to enhance the durability and functionality of police vehicles. This product underscores the company's commitment to providing reliable automotive accessories.

Since 1978, Go Industries has been a trusted name in truck accessories, law enforcement products, and custom manufacturing. Based in Richardson, Texas, the company has a history of serving a wide range of customers with high-quality and dependable products. Their latest addition to the law enforcement segment highlights their commitment to innovation and customer satisfaction.

The newly launched Push Bumper Center Section is specially designed for the Chevrolet Tahoe. It features a fully welded, one-piece construction that ensures long-lasting durability and strength. Made from 1.9-inch, 14-gauge cross tubes, 1/4-inch uprights, and a heavy-duty 11-gauge shelf plate, the product promises robust protection. The push bumper also includes heavy-duty push pads and a semi-gloss powder coat finish. All necessary brackets and hardware come with it, making installation easy. This product is a testament to American manufacturing, as all parts are made in the USA.

"The introduction of the Push Bumper Center Section for the Chevrolet Tahoe aligns with our mission to provide the best push bumper solutions for law enforcement vehicles," said a representative from Go Industries. "Our commitment to excellence and durability is evident in the design and construction of this product. We are confident that it will meet the rigorous demands of police work."

One of the main strengths of this new product is its specific design for law enforcement use. The push bumper ensures the vehicle's front end is protected during pursuits, roadblocks, and other demanding situations. Its construction materials and techniques guarantee that the bumper can withstand significant impact and stress.

Go Industries also offers custom manufacturing services, allowing customers to have products designed and built to meet their specific needs. By providing personalized solutions, the company helps fulfill unique customer requirements, ensuring satisfaction across various industries.

Another key offering from Go Industries involves comprehensive resources for its customers. These resources include detailed product instructions, an extensive product catalog, warranty information, and instructional videos. The company's dedication to service quality has earned it a Platinum Status from SEMA, further establishing its reputation for excellence.

The Chevy Tahoe Push Bumper Center Section is available for purchase on the Go Industries website. The product listing includes detailed specifications and pricing information. Customers can easily obtain a quote for their custom manufacturing needs through the company's website as well. Notably, the product is currently offered at a discounted price, making it an attractive option for law enforcement agencies looking to enhance their fleet.

"We are proud to expand our product line with innovative solutions like the police push bumper for the Chevrolet Tahoe," said the representative. "This product is designed with the needs of law enforcement in mind, combining durability, style, and ease of installation. We believe it represents the best push bumper option available on the market today."

Besides offering top-quality products, Go Industries remains committed to customer convenience. The company accepts various forms of payment, including cryptocurrencies, ensuring a seamless and flexible purchasing experience.

With over four decades of experience, Go Industries continues to be a leader in the automotive accessories industry. By consistently developing products that meet high standards of functionality and reliability, the company strengthens its position as a trusted provider for truck owners, law enforcement, and custom manufacturing clients.
